Premier Bennett To Be Absent From House For Period

It Will Be Some Time Before He Returns to Commons, Members Informed By Sir George Perley; Ill Since February 24

Last Week He Had Heart Attack

Ottawa, March 11.—Sir George Perley, acting head of the government, told the House of Commons to-day it would be some time before Premier R. B. Bennett could return to his duties. He read a bulletin signed by Dr. R. A. Stevens intimating the Prime Minister was progressing favorably.

The Premier's illness started with a heart affection February 24. The physician's bulletin follows: "The Prime Minister's recovery was successful until Thursday last, when he suffered a general attack. Following this there was some disturbance of cardiac rhythm. This has now disappeared and his general condition is improving. This, which is not serious in itself, necessitated further rest. The respiratory infection which appeared February 24, with long continued overwork and strain, undoubtedly precipitated his illness. The 'typical' attack' referred to in the bulletin came on the day the Prime Minister had intended to return to his work after making what was thought to have been a good recovery from the respiratory infection."

PIONEER DIES AT AGE OF 101

Mrs. Jane McCurdy, Who Came Here Via Cape Horn in 1861, Passes Away

Memories of the early days of British Columbia's history are recalled by the death in Seattle yesterday of Mrs. Jane McCurdy, pioneer of Victoria, at the advanced age of 101 years. She passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Conner, with whom she had been staying.

Born at Wilmington, England, on June 17, 1833, she then Miss Jane Parker came to Victoria to visit her sister in 1861. She traveled from England on the old sailing vessel Retriever, via Cape Horn, the voyage taking six months.

She lived for many years in Victoria, and was first married to the late H. C. Bailey, later going to San Juan Island, where Mr. Bailey owned the San Juan Line Inn, in partnership with Mr. McCurdy. Some time after the death of Mr. Bailey his widow married Mr. McCurdy, and they continued to reside on San Juan, and were at the time of the dispute over the international boundary, their own property being situated there.

For many years Mrs. McCurdy resided in Seattle, but a few years ago returned to make her home in Victoria, with her daughter, Mrs. O. W. Anderson, Robertson Street, at whose home she celebrated her one hundredth birthday in 1933.

A woman of remarkable vigor, Mrs. McCurdy retained all her faculties, with the exception of a slight deafness, until she was well over the century mark, and delighted to see all the young people who came to her place of residence.

She leaves to mourn her loss three children, Mrs. P. J. Bailey, Mrs. O. W. Anderson, and Mrs. G. W. Anderson, Victoria.

The remains will be taken to Port Townsend, where Mrs. McCurdy will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Crete Island Port Centre of Greek Uprising

Sons of Eleutherios Venizelos, leader of the Greek revolution, say the insurgents will continue to hold Crete no matter if the rebels fall in Macedonia, on the Greek mainland. Above is a glimpse of the harbor of Crete. The villa of ex-Premier Venizelos near that port was bombed a few days ago by Greek army fliers. At the right is a picture of Gen. George Kondylis, who is in command of the government army forces operating against the rebels in Macedonia.

Bank of Canada Branches Now Doing Business

NEW BANK NOTES ARE OUT TO-DAY

Vancouver, March 11.—The new $10, $5 and $1 bank notes of the Bank of Canada were on hand when the Vancouver branch of the bank of Canada opened for operations this forenoon and were supplied to branches of the chartered banks as the first business.

Headquarters in Ottawa and Branches, Including That in Vancouver, Opened Doors This Forenoon

Ottawa, March 11.—The Bank of Canada took over at 10 o'clock to-day the direction of the currency and credit machinery of the Dominion. These functions were previously performed by the Department of Finance. The first discount rate announced was 5 1/2 per cent. This is the rate at which the central bank will make advances to the chartered banks or discount their securities.

The discount rate is the same for the first day as the Department of Finance has charged the banks. The rate of the Federal Reserve Bank in New York to-day was 1 1/2 per cent and the rate in London 3 per cent.

The discount rate is one of the chief weapons which the central bank has to influence the credit situation in the Dominion. By lowering the discount rate credit can be made easier, and by increasing the rate credit can be tightened up. The central bank will announce its rates frequently.

Quintuplets' Board Opposed

Parents of Dionne Babies Want No Ontario Government Guardians

North Bay, Ont., March 11.—Declaring it would split his family in two, Oliver Dionne, father of the famous quintuplets, opposes the bill now before the Ontario Legislature to make the five baby girls "wards of the King."

In an interview here, Mr. Dionne expressed his disinclination with provisions of the measure, introduced in the Legislature Friday by Hon. David Croft, Minister of Welfare. It would bring the children's welfare under the direction of the minister, with Mr. Dionne one of a board of guardians to be appointed by Mr. Croft.

"Mr. Croft told us God never intended us to have money, that I was a prosperous farmer and to go back to my farm and forget about the babies until they were eighteen and then we would have $100,000," Mr. Dionne said.

"All we want is a chance to show we are able to raise our babies. Under the present bill they would become state children, and they would be two separate families. We don't want that. We want all our children to have an equal chance."

Mrs. Dionne, joining in the statement, declared:

"We were willing in December to give a written guarantee that we would not exploit the babies in any way and we are still willing to do so. The father said, 'I explained the reasonable way to me and he said, 'I made recently in the United States was forced on them 'to show what we could do.'"

"We always thought we were living in a free country," Mr. Dionne concluded. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

NO REQUEST FOR TREATY CHANGE

Ottawa, March 11.—The United Kingdom government has given no indication to Ottawa of a desire to revise or modify the Ottawa Imperial Conference agreement, with Canada. This information was given to the House of Commons to-day by Sir George Perley, acting head of the government.

On the first letter, the chief fell almost immediately from $6.15 to $4.75, after the second letter, moved up rapidly to $7.75.

Lynd said that of the $7,400 shares of the company, which were traded in three months, $5 up to $6, but not including November 22, Amster bought 10,000.

All but 4,500 shares he bought at between $4 and $5, the balance at between $5.15 and $5.25.

CHINESE SHOT IN BACK IN KAMLOOPS

Kamloops, B.C., March 11.—Reported to have been shot in the back as he stood talking to a Chinese woman in the doorway of a house in Kamloops, a Chinese, early to-day, Wong May, thirty-three, was taken to the Royal Infirmary Hospital in a serious condition. He was unable to identify his assailant.

NEW TOWERS NOW MARK BOUNDARY

Washington, March 11.—The public works administration checked up to-day and found a total of $1,200 has been spent during the international boundary between Maine and New Brunswick, and Montana and British Columbia.

There have been built to show which part of Boundary Bay is Washington and which British Columbia, the United States share coming to $10,500.

STOCK DEALS INVESTIGATED

N. L. Amster and Officials of Granby Consolidated Questioned at Washington

Washington, March 11.—The United States securities commission to-day began an investigation into the stock transactions of Nathan L. Amster, prominent New York attorney, and other officials of the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Limited of British Columbia, in the shares of that company.

Amster appeared in court and a half hour of his hearing, after Thomas Lynch, commission counsel, had disclosed he had fruitlessly searched for Amster since February 25, in an effort to subpoena him. His appearance was noted in the record without comment from the commission.

HEAVY TRANSACTIONS

Lynch said figures on Amster's transactions to show he engaged heavily in the market after the company's board had transmitted certain information to stockholders.

This information was in a letter dated November 2, 1934, warning stockholders the directors felt the company's principal operating company should be closed.

On November 21 the company sent out another letter disclosing a quick assets of $100,000 a share.

On the first letter, the stock fell almost immediately from $6.15 to $4.75, after the second letter, moved up rapidly to $7.75.

Lynd said that of the $7,400 shares of the company, which were traded in three months, $5 up to $6, but not including November 22, Amster bought 10,000.

All but 4,500 shares he bought at between $4 and $5, the balance at between $5.15 and $5.25.

MANHOLE COVERS STOLEN IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 11.—Maybe a flock of geese are planning a series of hoodlums.

Pedestrian Charles Morris, walking his last to-day, discovered twenty-six manhole covers had been stolen from the street. The covers weigh about thirty-five pounds each.

BRADSHAW TO COME TUESDAY

Municipal Situation Promises to Hold Attention of House This Week

With Vancouver's affairs to the forefront, the municipal situation will be thrust into the limelight at the Legislative Buildings this week, according to indications this morning.

Dismissing the recommendations of Thomas Bradshaw, Toronto financial expert, Mayor McCord is reported proposing to his council that Vancouver should stop paying more than 5 per cent interest on its debt after March 31.

This is in face of a government promise that special legislation to deal with Vancouver will be brought down this session. The private bills committee is scheduled to discuss this question Wednesday morning.

Meanwhile Mr. Bradshaw will meet the government to-morrow, it is reported, to discuss the position.

Victoria has also entered the picture and will receive advice from Mr. Bradshaw on its financial standing. While this city has tentatively discussed a refunding proposition to reduce its debt charges, nothing definite has been put before the government.

TRIPPERS TO PAY DUTIES ON FOOD

Associated Press
Buffalo, N.Y., March 11.—A sudden wave of "tourists" returning from Canada with large parcels of foodstuffs had the United States customs here flocked for a while in recent weeks.

Now, however, Buffalo housewives who try to take advantage of lower food prices in Canada and the ruling citizens may bring into the country duty free up to $100 worth of purchases, must pay the tariff duties on their "imports."

HON. R. RAYMOND DEPUTY SPEAKER

Ottawa, March 11.—Hon. Raymond Morand, Conservative member for East Beaufort, Ont., to-day was unanimously elected Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons on motion of Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister.

Mr. Morand, a member of the Liberal Party, and E. J. Garland, U.F.A. Bow River, spoke for the Opposition and expressed pleasure at the government's selection.

Dr. Morand succeeds Armand Lapierre, who died last week.

McGeer Calls For Interest Slash

If Government Refuses Vancouver Right to Make Reduction, Mayor Determined to Try Arbitrary Cut; Bradshaw Criticized

Vancouver, March 11.—If the British Columbia Government refuses to authorize the city of Vancouver to reduce the interest rate on its bonded indebtedness, Mayor G. G. McGeer announced to-day he will move at the City Council meeting on March 15 that the council make an arbitrary reduction to 3 per cent, to apply on and after March 31.

The mayor had proposed to submit this demand to the council to-day, but he deferred action until the government's stand is learned.

On April 1 $162,500 in interest is due in London, Canada and United States. If the council approves the mayor's proposal, this payment would be made only on the basis of 3 per cent.

Mayor McGeer recently estimated a general cut in interest rates to 3 per cent would save the city $650,000 annually.

CRITICIZES BRADSHAW

Remedies proposed by Thomas Bradshaw, Toronto financial expert, to meet Vancouver's financial difficulties were criticized by the mayor as the council met to consider Mr. Bradshaw's report on the city's financial situation.

"It is not a practical, reasonable or available solution to our difficulties," Mr. McGeer declared.

With new capital banned for a period of years, the city is faced with an indefinite period of continued distress for property owners, taxpayers and unemployed, the mayor said. Measures of relief far in excess of those proposed by Mr. Bradshaw must be given to the city, he declared.

Education and social service costs must be financed from some other source than land and business taxes, he added.

REDISTRIBUTION REQUIRED

If the city is to continue, Mr. McGeer declared the province must (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

J. D. ROCKEFELLER FIGHTS OFF COLD

Associated Press
Ormond Beach, Fla., March 11.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., ninety-five-year-old master of oil millions, has been so ill with a cold for the last three days that his doctor has visited him twice daily.

The nonagenarian's condition has improved to such an extent to-day, however, that he was considering out of all danger. He might possibly resume to-morrow his daily automobile rides, his sole break through the absolute curtain of isolation and secrecy that surrounds him.

The elder Rockefeller, who spends his winters at The Cosmopolitan, a rambling, unpretentious home, developed, however, a slight fever and cold three days ago. Because of his extreme age any illness immediately was considered serious. But the fever disappeared yesterday and his condition was close to normal.

Strike of Tanker Crews Spreading

LINER TAGGED FOR SPEEDING

Glasgow, Scotland, March 11.—A transatlantic liner has been "tagged" for speeding.

Charged with excessive speed in the River Clyde, a 16,000-ton vessel was cited in the Glasgow sheriff's court. The vessel, it was charged, was going so fast that it set up a heavy wash, inflicting some $100,000 damage to two smaller ships moored at a river dock.

Experts Write for Readers of The Times on Gardening

Beginning to-morrow, The Times will publish a series of twelve daily articles on various important phases of home gardening. These articles have been written by six outstanding specialists. Crisp, concise, well illustrated, they will help Victorian plan and build a garden which can be the envy of the entire neighborhood.

In these articles the gardener will be told how to prepare the soil for planting seeds and seedlings, what vegetables to plant and how, how to lay out a garden, what is meant by a rock garden, all about formal and informal pools, annuals, perennials and bulb flowers, and so on.

Finally, a specialist on plant diseases and pests has written two valuable articles which should enable the gardener to keep his plants healthy and vigorous.

Altogether, this series is a complete guide in planting and maintaining a successful garden.

Crew of Cruiser Helle Throws Rebel Officers Overboard Into Sea Off Kavala; Number of Towns Surrendered to Army

REBELS CHASED OUT OF SEREJ

Associated Press
Athens, March 11.—The Greek government to-day reported the smashing of armed rebel opposition in Macedonia, the capture of 3,000 rebel soldiers and the virtual end of the Macedonian rebellion.

The light cruiser Helle of the rebel fleet was reported off a passage to the Ministry of Marine to be in government hands again in the port of Kavala.

The crew further reported it had thrown its officers, accused of ordering the ship into the rebellion, overboard into the harbor.

The ministry ordered the vessel to proceed to the Gulf of Salonika.

TOWNS SURRENDERED

The government dispatches did not mention a single clash with the rebels, but painted a picture of a rapid series of capitulations and surrenders of villages into the government's hands.

These reports said the revolutionary officers and regiments of their commands were fleeing eastward from Macedonia, where the government troops were expected to meet them.

News, where the government troops met unexpected resistance yesterday, was reported by General George Kondylis, Minister of War, to have been abandoned early to-day before the advance of his forces, who marched into the town. Local forces said Drama, Kavala and a host of smaller rebel centres had capitulated.

FURTHER GENERAL

The rebel general, Demetrios Kamenos, who had been variously reported using for peace and fleeing to Alexandria to board a rebel ship, which was stated to be fleeing toward Smyrna. General Kamenos, it was reported, was fleeing to Alexandria, cutting off Kamenos's exit.

(Naples dispatches asserted Kamenos had reached the Bulgarian frontier.)

Newspapers issued extras declaring the men and women in the erstwhile rebel cities had strewn flowers in the path of the loyal troops.

The government was informed that civil officials and police were about to proceed from Salonika to take over their posts in Serej.

A short time later word was received by the government that loyalist troops also had taken Demirhisar, another rebel stronghold.

Guards asserted what might have been a serious clash at the Athens railway station, when forty officers (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

New Defence Plans Debated

British Estimates Attacked in Commons By Laborites; Defended By Baldwin

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, March 11.—Heavily attacked by the Labor Party in the House of Commons this afternoon, the government warmly defended its policy of strengthening armaments with the declaration no country that is unwilling to defend itself can have any power in the world.

Clement Richard Attlee, the Labor spokesman, moved a motion of censure and declared the most famous white paper, which accompanied the increase in estimates last week, indicated the government was moving away from the League of Nations and its principles "back to the world anarchy of an armaments race."

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, government leader in the absence of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, immediately answered with a denial. "While we have no intention of abandoning the collective security policy, or any turning away from the League of Nations."

"In a rapidly arming world," Mr. Baldwin said, "Great Britain has been delayed and delayed, hoping for the conclusion of an effective disarmament convention."

Government supporters cheered lustily and thumped their desks when he added: "I believe that by carrying out what we have put in the white paper, so far from having initiated a new arms race, we have helped in our effort to make peace more secure." (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Cotton Prices In U.S. On Toboggan

Drop at New York Reaches $7 a Bale; as High as $3 at New Orleans

New York, March 11.—Senator Key Pittman, Nevada Democrat, who is expected to be a Washington correspondent of The New York Herald-Tribune as declaring the St. Lawrence waterway and power treaty with Canada is dead for this session of Congress, at least.

AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, March 11.—Dropping four to five points a bale, cotton futures to-day fell $2.50 to $3 a bale on the New Orleans Exchange during a morning of wild trading.

With all futures selling below the United States Government's twelve-cent loan price, traders showed no hesitancy in wading through the "paper" price on the belief there would be no government loans on the first crop, and cotton was offered freely on the decline in price.

March was at 11.50, May at 11.25 and July at 11.75 during the first two hours of trading, while October dropped to 11.60.

Mayor David Leeming is general chairman of the campaign, which has the distinguished patronage of the Hon. the Lieutenant-Governor.

Why Pay High Prices for Dentistry?

This office has been established in a firm belief that we can attend to the dental requirements of a great many people at a moderate price, rather than meet the needs of a few people at higher prices. Whether you need a few teeth extracted, a new plate, fillings or bridgework done, you know in advance exactly what your dental work will cost you. After all that is what most people want to know.

Soldiers boarding a troop train started a demonstration, manifesting their hostility to the prisoners, and some attempts to break through police lines before the guards succeeded in restraining them.

Salonika, Greece, March 11.—Under pressure from government troops, the Greek rebels retired to-day after a day of fighting to the old line occupied by the Bulgarians during the Great War, running from Drama to Demirhissar around the spurs of the Balkan mountains.

Here they are using old Bulgarian-German trenches with concrete shelters and earthworks which military experts declare make them almost invulnerable.

The rebels have been forced to evacuate Seres, which is located on a broad plain without natural protection, but they said they intended to make a determined stand at Drama, whose high hills already have been heavily fortified by the rebels.

PLANES USED

In to-day's operations, the government employed all its planes, which total only twenty-seven. The machines dropped only occasional bombs.

CAMPBELL SEEKS CHANCE TO DRIVE CAR 300 MILES AN HOUR

When the above picture was taken at Daytona Beach, Florida, Mr. Malcolm Campbell was doing about 200 miles an hour. It was on a test run a few days before he set the new record of 274.815 miles an hour. The coiling over the engine buckled in the intense heat at the point indicated by the arrow and gas was whipped back into the cockpit, nearly asphyxiating the daring driver. He was through, however, and is ready for another effort to set a 300-mile-an-hour record.

Quintuplets' Board Opposed

tioned, "but it doesn't look like it now. I wonder how far north we would have to go to be free. There is one great question in the bill though. They have at last admitted I am the father of the babies. Mrs. Dionne is not mentioned in the whole bill. They must have forgotten she exists."

If the bill fails to pass, the Dionnes plan to have the quintuplets live with their other five children as soon as they are old enough to make that practice. When the girls are old enough to go to school, the parents hope to have a new home and use the present babies' hospital as a school house.

"What we would like to know," Mrs. Dionne said during the interview, "is what we have done to deserve to lose our babies."

APPEAL TO M.P.'S

Mrs. Dionne said she hoped that before the passage of the bill by the Legislature the members intending to vote for it would for a moment place themselves in her position of having the children taken from her when she had never had the opportunity to show she is able to rear them.

AT THE HOSPITAL

"They claim we have free access to the hospital anytime," said the father. "Well, just yesterday afternoon I went over there with some friends and they would not even pull up the blinds in the nursery so we could look at the babies. But at the same time there was a party of people in the office, friends of some of the guardians, and as soon as we left the hospital they were shown the babies. And the babies were not asleep at the time. We could hear them laughing and playing."

"Rights from the day the babies were born we have not had a chance to show we are able to rear them," Olive continued, his wife nodding in agreement.

"When the first contract with the guardians was signed, we were forced to sign because they threatened that if we did not they would take the babies and they would stop the supply of food to the babies. That is not fair. That did not look very much as though they had the interests of the babies at heart, did it?"

Mrs. Dionne said she wondered if the members of the Legislature would vote for passage of the bill would talk the matter over with their wives before they voted.

SOVIET MENTIONED

"The Dionnes saw the 'taking away' of the babies as something resembling Soviet Russia in Canada."

"We don't want our babies to be raised as 'state babies,'" they agreed. "We want them to be raised as our children, to be given the same chances and the same upbringing as their older brothers and sisters. We don't want a lot of money. All we want is our babies and a living."

MANAGER SPEARS

Full support of the parents was voiced by Lee Kervin, their manager. "The way this bill is framed now is grossly unfair," said Kervin as the Dionnes listened. "We certainly do not intend to have it passed without doing what we can to have a fair chance in the upbringing of the babies."

"If anything happened to one of these babies the government is able to step out of the picture and say, 'Here, you can have your babies now.' That is certainly not a fair deal for Mr. and Mrs. Dionne, and we intend to make every effort to recover those children for them and to bring them up as ordinary children, not as 'state children.'"

TO EXPLAIN TO LEGISLATURE

Toronto, March 11.—"Anything I said to Mr. Dionne I said in the presence of his solicitor, Paul Martin," said Hon. A. W. Robbuck, Attorney-General, to-day in commenting on dissemination of the quintuplets' parents with the bill respecting the babies introduced in the Legislature. "Any further remarks I have to make will come when the bill is up for second reading," added the minister.

agreement of last summer to arbitrate, without further delay, all the issues in the dispute.

Early to-day operators issued orders to all incoming tankers not to dock. What effect this will have on crews leaving ships when they do arrive was not commented upon by either union officials or operators.

Union officials also commented on the original strike order. "We will call off the crew of every tanker as fast as they arrive in the harbor," said Henry Christensen, local secretary of the Seafarers' Union of the Pacific.

The threat was fulfilled when the crew of the general petroleum tanker Lebon, in from Seattle, and the oil tanker Topia, in from Puget, left this morning in this port.

BANK OF CANADA BRANCHES NOW DOING BUSINESS

Business of the new bank opened all the way across Canada to-day with each provincial office of the central bank receiver-general becoming an agency of the central bank.

In Ottawa the main business to-day was taking over the $70,000,000 in gold held in the Dominion Treasury, and transferring to the Bank of Canada some $10,000,000 in a 5 per cent five-year Dominion bonds which will compensate the bank for assuming responsibility for the Dominion notes.

Some of the $10,000,000 in gold which will be handed over by the chartered banks has already been transferred. The balance has been placed on order of the Bank of Canada by the chartered banks concerned, or transfer later.

NEW NOTES ISSUED

Every provincial agency of the Bank of Canada has been given a supply of the new Bank of Canada paper money, and was in a position today to furnish the chartered banks on exchange of Dominion notes. Dominion notes will be gradually withdrawn from circulation as they are exchanged in exchange for the new money.

VANCOUVER BRANCH

Vancouver, March 11.—The Vancouver branch of the Bank of Canada opened for business to-day, with employees transferred here from the assistant receiver-general's office in Victoria working under the manager, Major Walter Winship, to place in order the files and equipment moved here from the capital over the weekend.

UNSAFE FOR DEMOCRACY

The world was never more unsafe for democracy than at the present time, he emphasized. Democracy was threatened, sometimes from the outside and sometimes from within.

And believing as he did that Britain would be the last country to build down the flag of democracy, there was all the more reason for laying the situation frankly before the people.

In opening the debate Major Atkin had declared Labor was utterly opposed to Hitlerism. It abandoned the doctrine of the 1931 regime, its rearmament and its weakness of reaction, but more importantly was not the remedy, he suggested.

"What is the use of a League if it is going to lead to a new competition between the signatory powers?" he demanded. "The white paper simply means we are returning to the old system of alliances and the old pre-war atmosphere."

The benches and galleries were packed as the debate on the increased defence estimates got under way.

The estimates for the navy, army and air force, introduced last week, total $127,651,000 ($28,611,000 at 1934, an increase over last year of $12,500,000).

The accompanying white paper explained Britain could no longer defer strengthening her defences and pointed to recent developments among other things listing "unstable and uncontrolled" rearmament in Germany.

FRANKENBERG DESIRED

Opposition in the white paper was chiefly based on the fact it stipulated "uncontrolled" rearmament of Germany as a factor strengthening strengthened British forces.

Mr. Baldwin referred to Germany without delay. "We thought it was better to be frank in a constructive, and destructive, spirit," he said. "The white paper was frank. It was not exclusive. It was intended in some quarters that Germany was the only country alluded to. That is far from the truth.

"The white paper said nothing in substance that I did not say last November. The terms were not put in regard to Germany in no spirit but a friendly spirit, and with that frankness which is the best tribute to friendly negotiations."

"Now then, ever, I am convinced that it was right. Without frankness you cannot get to the beginning, much less to the end."

NEW ERA

Mr. Baldwin added there was no reason why negotiations began in Paris and London, to be followed in other capitals, should not lead to a new era in Europe.

"We are prepared to contribute our share," Mr. Baldwin continued. "In the white paper the government was not asking for increased arms except in the air, he pointed out. In the army and navy they were partly asking that the existing stocks should be efficiently equipped."

In the navy, the British policy under the Washington and London treaties would have done if the country had had deliberately delayed new building in the hope her example would have a readying effect on other powers. It had not had that steady influence.

OTHERS BUILD SHIPS

Japan and the United States were building up to treaty limits, he declared. Italy had laid down two $30,000-ton capital ships. The French press reported France was to lay down two capital ships "in response to the large number of submarines and cruisers built by other powers not parties to the London treaty."

which Mr. Baldwin added, "would have been ample to enable us to 'invade' that article of the treaty which permits us to increase our tonnage."

He cited army and aircraft increases by European powers and declared, "in no case has Britain taken the lead in armaments."

Between 1928 and two years ago, Britain had spent in the aggregate $200,000,000 less on defence than she would have done if the country had been at the 1926 level. Those millions of pounds were saved at the expense of decreased efficiency.

"If," he added gravely, "the army is to be kept on a day for major operations, it is inadequately prepared."

Immunity against attack from the air could not be secured, he said, but he had no doubt that the country was difficult. This was the idea of the proposed defensive air pact.

"There comes a point when an air attack is not worth while," he said. "We have got to see that somehow or other we can make it not worth while for our opponent."

THE WORLD WAS NEVER MORE UNSAFE for democracy than at the present time, he emphasized. Democracy was threatened, sometimes from the outside and sometimes from within.

And believing as he did that Britain would be the last country to build down the flag of democracy, there was all the more reason for laying the situation frankly before the people.

In opening the debate Major Atkin had declared Labor was utterly opposed to Hitlerism. It abandoned the doctrine of the 1931 regime, its rearmament and its weakness of reaction, but more importantly was not the remedy, he suggested.

"What is the use of a League if it is going to lead to a new competition between the signatory powers?" he demanded. "The white paper simply means we are returning to the old system of alliances and the old pre-war atmosphere."

The benches and galleries were packed as the debate on the increased defence estimates got under way.

The estimates for the navy, army and air force, introduced last week, total $127,651,000 ($28,611,000 at 1934, an increase over last year of $12,500,000).

The accompanying white paper explained Britain could no longer defer strengthening her defences and pointed to recent developments among other things listing "unstable and uncontrolled" rearmament in Germany.

recognize there must be redistribution of revenue to allow the city some benefit from some collected by the province in Vancouver from such sources as gasoline tax, amusement tax, motor license and license on such establishments as hotel parlors.

"And there must be a readjustment of debt interest," he continued. "If there are bundles of new money ready for investment, surely there are bundles of money to refund our old debts on a more equitable basis."

The mayor stated that adjustments have been made in such British Columbia municipalities as Burnaby, North Vancouver and Prince Rupert, where the ability to pay was the gauge.

"We are rapidly coming to a time when the ability to pay will be the factor to be considered and not whether past interest rates were fair," he declared. "This report brings you to a place where you have to consider how to meet your debts. If the depression keeps on, your capacity to pay will be put to the test. But

W. J. A. Grant, Explorer, Dies

Death has ended the suffering of the eighty-four-year-old explorer and big game hunter, W. J. A. Grant, who a year ago quarantined at a "uranium dance" to celebrate his thirtieth anniversary.

Grant, who almost daily since had prayed he might die, and had asked doctors to put him painlessly to sleep and been refused, died quietly. He suffered heart trouble and a complication of ailments.

Grant publicly advocated the practice of euthanasia by saying, "Take my own case. I am no use to anybody. I should be only too happy to be given a double dose of sleeping draught."

WEAR OUR CLOTHES
Months ago Grant instructed his mourners to "wear your gaudy clothes; don't come in the midnight garb of woe."

RETIRED U.S. GENERAL DIES

San Diego, Calif., March 11 (Associated Press).—Major-General Frederick H. Strong, retired, died in a hospital here Saturday after a two-month illness. He was seventy-nine years old. General Strong was born at Fair Haven, N.J. He had his first taste of active fighting in the last Sioux Indian campaign in 1891.

Toronto, March 11 (Canadian Press).—Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, will sail this week for England to recuperate from a recent illness. He is expected to return before the session of the Legislature ends.

"Truth Serum"
Frees Suspects

Drug Used For First Time in Pennsylvania in Murder Case

Belleville, Pa., March 11.—Cleared of suspicion in a year-old murder case through use of a newly discovered "truth serum," two Belleville men were free to-day on the recommendation of District Attorney Philip Johnston. The attorney recommended in court Saturday the charges be dismissed, and the court complied.

Sgt. Edwin J. Stromman of the state police confirmed use of the "serum," and said he believed it was used for the first time in Pennsylvania when he questioned one of the suspects, William Eckels, thirty-two, after Dr. Richard H. Hoffman of the Centre County Hospital, had applied the drug. One-fifth of a grain of scopalamine—the drug used to produce "twilight sleep" in childbirth cases—was injected into the arm, Stromman said. Eckels, who had agreed to the experiment, slowly passed into what the sergeant said resembled a hypnotic sleep. Each statement tallied with the story Eckels had told when conscious, the officer said, convincing him the man and his companion, David Carver, twenty-nine, had had nothing to do with the slaying of Guy Coll a year ago.

William J. Hamilton
Dies in Montreal

Canadian Press
Montreal, March 11.—William Joseph Hamilton, seventy-two, consulting metallurgist to the Corro and Peace Copper Corporation of New York and Peru, and one of the best-known Canadians in the mining field, died here Saturday. He had been ill for a year.

Born and educated in Montreal, Mr. Hamilton traveled widely during a career packed with adventure in the mining fields of the United States, Mexico and Peru. In Peru he built the mining town of La Croya and the smelter there.

STUDY STANDARDS OF GASOLINE

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 11.—Specifications for grades of gasoline will be studied by representatives of provincial governments, together with the National Research Council this week. The conference will open here Friday.

The lead in this matter was taken by Nova Scotia last year, a statement by the research council said. Concurrently with these developments in the provinces, the Canadian government purchasing standards committee had been preparing specifications defining quality of gasoline to be supplied to departments of the federal government.

Born in Kingston, Ont., Mr. Daragh came to British Columbia as a young man, settling in the Revelstoke district, where he engaged in mining work. Despite his age he had never missed a summer's work at his claims.

DISPUTE OVER
POPULAR SONG

Russian Film Producers Are Charged With Copying "La Cucaracha"

Associated Press
Moscow, March 11.—A bitter dispute growing out of charges that Russian film producers copied the Mexican song "La Cucaracha" from a United States movie has been submitted to that august body, the high Soviet control commission. Russian artists were whistling and humming catchy music from the Soviet musical picture, "Merryhows," when the Hollywood picture "Viva Villa" was brought here for the international movie festival. Quickly it was discovered the tune in the Russian film and "La Cucaracha" in the United States production were remarkably similar. Forthwith the newspaper Literary Gazette printed charges of plagiarism against the Russian producers. A jury of eminent musicians formed to decide the dispute censured the producers, but the newspaper continued its charges. The matter has now been referred to the control commission, the highest authority on such matters.

U.S. SENATOR IN NRA ARGUMENT

Associated Press
Washington, March 11.—Terming the proposal one that the "most monopolistic rulers of big business have been urging," Donald R. Richberg, director of the National Recovery Council, yesterday evening hit at Senator Borah's demand that most of the NRA be scrapped. "Senator Borah's plan to scrap all of the NRA except minimum wages, maximum hours and a prohibition of child labor is what the most reactionary rulers of big business have been urging . . . for several months. Under this programme, wage-earners, consumers and small business men would be stripped of any real protection against unfair competition. . . ."

FEDERAL RESERVE
IN U.S. ATTACKED

Associated Press
Detroit, March 11.—Rev. Charles E. Coughlin urged members of his National Union for Social Justice yesterday to join in a "declaration of independence" from what he termed the "financial tyranny," or a stage-coach economic system, "an economics of scarcity rather than the economics of plenty." Father Coughlin listed twenty-seven indictments against the federal reserve banking system, which he said held the power "with printing press and fountain pen . . . to expand or contract credit at will." He blamed the federal reserve system for promoting the growth of large corporations, driving the United States into the war to "secure the credit of the British Empire," extending "worthless foreign loans, permitting circulation of 'fictional' credit money, the invasion of high government councils, the press and the schools, opposing tax reforms and carrying class against class."

OLD PROSPECTOR IS MISSING

Canadian Press
Edmonton, March 11.—With the finding of the deserted cabin and untouched food cache of James Bird, seventy-year-old prospector, missing since Christmas in the Great Bear Lake district, a police patrol has abandoned the search for him. It was made known here to-day by D. Belec, manager of the H. Bonanza silver mine, when he arrived here from the north. The police patrol, consisting of three dog teams and three men in charge of Constable Sgt. Royal Canadian Mounted Police, stopped at the mine camp en route back to Cameron Bay, N.W.T., after visiting the lone prospector's cabin lying 100 miles southwest on McVicar's Arm.

REFUNDING OF DEBTS DEBATED

Calgary, March 11.—If the Dominion Government offers full compensation, Premier R. G. Reid is willing to call a special session of the Alberta Legislature to discuss the refunding of municipal debts, he informed Mayor Andrew Dawson in an interview Saturday. The Calgary mayor announced on his return from Edmonton. Premier Reid assured Mayor Dawson the situation of Alberta cities had been placed before the Ottawa government. Alberta authorities were now waiting word as to the federal unemployment policy after March 31.

MANY GIVE TO CANCER FUND

On Saturday Alone 1,500 Letters Reached Government House at Ottawa

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 11.—Churches and religious bodies of all denominations are rallying to the support of the King George Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund. Donations poured into Rideau Hall at the week-end from all parts of Canada, according to an official statement. The Governor-General and Lady Beaufort, who are sponsoring the fund, received some 1,500 communications in Saturday's mail with donations ranging from $1 to $10,000.

While three of the provinces thus far have outdistanced the other six, New Brunswick, in proportion to its population, is leading all the rest. Quebec and Ontario are running neck to neck. The proprietor of a French language newspaper said a senator from New Brunswick each sent a cheque on Saturday for $500. The town of St. Hilaire, Que., at a special meeting of the corporation passed a resolution authorizing a generous donation to the fund, while the mayor of Saskatchewan town wrote he was urging every citizen to support the undertaking.

Busy Week For Senate Members

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 11.—Facing the Senate when it meets to-morrow afternoon will be an imposing array of major legislation. The elder statesmen will have before them measures reading Government officials, in this arrangement Act and the Canadian Farm Loan Act, appointment of new auditors for the Canadian National Railways and a one-year extension of the Dominion's tax agreement with the city of Ottawa.

Also there will be the Patent Act amendments before the banking and commerce committee again. The Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act and the Canadian Farm Loan Act amendments are expected to be referred by the upper house to its banking and commerce committee after they have been given second reading by the Senate. The committee will be asked to appear before the committee on the agricultural legislation.

ACTOR EXPLAINS;
SUIT IS DROPPED

Associated Press
Hollywood, Calif., March 11.—March words were directed by Jack Oakie, film comedian, against Marty Martyn, dance director, dissolved to-day into friendliness and as a result a $125,000 suit filed by Martyn against the actor stood dismissed. "I have no desire to make any unkind remarks about you or anyone else. If I have done so, I hereby tender you my apology for same," wrote Oakie to Martyn. Martyn had charged that Oakie, in the presence of various screen figures, had called him, among other things, "chiselier," "shakedown artist," and "two-dollar bum."

Peace and Comfort

Tobacco is universally conceded to be one of Nature's finest gifts to mankind. It is a gift that man cherishes dearly, because of the comfort, the solace, it brings to him. It induces and disseminates a rare sense of peacefulness. It is in truth the very essence of peace.

Indian tradition associates its earliest uses with the promotion of peace. When the Great Spirit had to be propitiated, tobacco was the favoured form of peace-offering. When warring tribes came together to settle their differences, the pipe was the pledge of fidelity, and the seal of treaties.

And down through the intervening years, it has been around this note of peace, of soothing tranquility, that its virtues have had their highest meed of praise.

T. C. Haliburton (Sam Slick), in his "Clockmaker" sketches, eulogized tobacco in these terms: "The moment a man takes to a pipe he becomes a philosopher; it's the poor man's friend; it calms the mind, soothes the temper, and makes a man patient under trouble. It has made more good men, good husbands, kind masters, indulgent fathers, and honest fellows than any other blessed thing in this universal world."

The pardonable exaggerations of a devotee? Not at all! Underlying every one of these claims of tobacco's beneficence, there is a solid foundation of scientific fact.

Ask your physician, and he will tell you that tobacco does soothe tensed nerves, does relax tensed muscles, and that in so doing it does minister to your physical comfort and to your peace of mind.

As purveyor to the public at large of tobacco in all its forms—cigars, cigarettes, pipe tobacco—this Company finds cause for much gratification in the thought that every day it is contributing to the comfort, the contentment, and the happiness of millions of Canadians.

As Charles Kingsley so aptly remarks in his novel Westward Ho!, tobacco is "... a lone man's companion, a bachelor's friend, a hungry man's food, a sad man's cordial, a wakeful man's sleep, and a chilly man's fire."

A GOOD OMEN

REICHSFUEHRER HITLER OF GER-many seems to be recovering from his cold and there is every prospect that Britain's Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, will visit Berlin after all. It also has been arranged that Mr. Antony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, will go to Moscow to talk many matters over with the Soviet government.

The incident of the British "White Paper" obviously has blown over. This was a document issued for the information of the public of Britain, intended to justify increased appropriations for the fighting forces, mentioning in it that Germany—criticizing her sharply—and other countries were doing the same thing, and Germany took offence, since it was issued after the tentative arrangements had been made for Sir John's visit to the German capital. Hitler's cold, serious or otherwise, intervened and the trip was called off. The German government, however, now has officially renewed the invitation and, naturally, it will be accepted.

The object of the Foreign Secretary's visit to Berlin, plainly speaking, is to feel Germany out on the Anglo-French proposals for an all-inclusive European security agreement. We may also take it for granted that the Lord Privy Seal's journey to Moscow will have a very definite bearing on the same proposals. Eden has been informally assured that a warm welcome will await him at the Russian capital, thus disposing of the apprehension lest the Soviet Commissars would be content with discussions with no British official under cabinet rank.

Great Britain and France kept all other governments fully posted from the time the conversations began between them until the pact was signed. Italy already has put her mark of approval on the arrangement, subject to certain reservations in regard to Anglo-Italian action prescribed in the Locarno Pacts as affecting possible conflict between France and Germany. These, however, will become less important if Germany and Russia shall consent to a European all-inclusive peace agreement. For if Germany is willing, it may be supposed that Russia will jump at the chance to come in—for obvious reasons. The inclusion of Poland, of course, would have to follow.

The importance of these projected visits can not be underestimated. There are 167,000,000 Russians, 65,000,000 Germans, 32,000,000 Poles, 42,000,000 Italians, while France accounts for 42,000,000, and the United Kingdom another 47,000,000. Add on to this number 140,000,000 peace-loving citizens of the United States, and you have one-quarter of the human race on the side of settling international differences by sane methods. So if Germany and Russia can be persuaded to join with Britain, France and Italy in this all-inclusive security plan—and Poland, too, for there would be no point in her holding out—Japanese militarists would think very seriously before pursuing provocative policies either in the Orient or in the Pacific.

Not only would the furtherance of this security scheme reduce the prospect of further conflict on a major scale among the nations of Europe; but it would also make possible the renewal of the Disarmament Conference, the return of Germany to the League of Nations, and create a much better international feeling all round. Even Japan and China might find a way to compose their political and economic differences. The former conceivably could obtain more "elbow room" in the Orient for her ever-increasing population by negotiation instead of by the method which she has pursued against China during the last few years.

We may be taking a too optimistic view of the general international picture which is about to be touched up by these journeys of Sir John Simon and Mr. Antony Eden; but the fact that recently so many tense situations among the European powers have produced menacing flares which have died down almost as quickly as they have become visible is a hopeful augury.

BRITAIN'S BANKS

THE EXTENT OF THE IMPROVEMENT in business activity in Great Britain, and the British financial policy best calculated to aid in a restoration of world trade, were the subjects most carefully discussed before the shareholders upon the occasion of the recent annual meetings of the leading banks of Great Britain.

Thus, Mr. Colin F. Campbell, chairman of the National Provincial Bank, noted the 50 per cent increase in the output of pig iron in 1934 and stated that the production of nearly 9,000,000 tons of steel during the year had been exceeded—omitting war years—on only three occasions in the history of the industry.

The Hon. Rupert E. Beckett, chairman of the Westminster Bank Limited, supplied statistical evidence to show the rapid improvement which had taken place in 1933, and stated that this upward movement had been continued in 1934 and added that "the large figures of unemployment are apt to obscure the considerable growth in the numbers actually in work. It is not generally recognized, for instance, that the average level of employment in 1934 was approximately the same as in 1929 and much higher than in any other year since the war."

In dealing with the financial policy, Mr. J. Beaumont Pease, chairman of Lloyd's Bank Ltd., emphasized the excellent record of British banks during the depression. He suggested that for this reason an attack upon the banks would not meet with popular support at the present time and that while such an attack had been made in Australia it had merely served to consolidate the opinion of depositors, bank employees and the public generally against experiments with their savings. "The result we know was the definite failure at the polls of this attempt to obtain possession of the banking business."

Mr. Pease declared that the banks had done their utmost to encourage and stimulate a restoration of prosperity. That the banks had not made greater headway in building up deposits by granting loans was because of lack of demand on the part of industry for further accommodation.

A SECOND VICTORY

FOR THE SECOND YEAR IN SUCCESSION the Forbes Robertson Players of Victoria carried off the trophy of the Vancouver Little Theatre Drama in competition last Saturday night. The play they presented was "The Lion," by Reby Edmond; and it is noteworthy that Mr. Frank Johnston, the adjudicator, was moved, in outspoken criticism, to praise the work of the players very highly indeed. He declared the play commanded attention from the first curtain.

This notable second victory by the local group reflects great credit not only on the players themselves, but also on the expert direction of Mrs. Ethel Reese Burns. The formidable opposition which had to be overcome, and was so successfully overcome, is adequate evidence that Mrs. Burns and her talented young company had put their hearts into their work. They are to be congratulated heartily.

PROTECT WILD FLOWERS

MANY OF OUR BEAUTIFUL WILD flowers are disappearing at a rapid rate, owing to causes which, if not corrected soon, will leave us without any to enjoy. It is a common sight in the spring to see bunches of wild flowers lying beside the road, half dead, that have been picked and thrown away as soon as they begin to droop, or when the picker tires. Such flowers are entirely wasted; if they had been left they would have seeded themselves in due course and the countryside would have been made more attractive.

It is greatly to be desired that the country should become more nature-minded, and that more definite steps be taken to preserve for the future, the trees and flowers of the present. Provincial protection is needed to protect the lady-slippers, trilliums, peacocks or shooting-stars and lily, which are becoming more and more scarce.

Some people are careless in the way they pick flowers and often pull them up by the roots. Again, they tear limbs of shrubs and leave a splintered wound through which disease may attack and in time destroy the plant.

Our wild flowers are going. The native maidenhair fern has almost disappeared from the neighborhood of Victoria. And what is there to show for the armfuls that have been transplanted in gardens where they could not make their homes? Protect and conserve these flowers; they are among our finest assets.

"DEAD" HERE, TOO

UNITED STATES SENATOR KEY PITT-man, Nevada Democrat, was quoted to-day by a Washington correspondent of The New York Herald-Tribune as declaring that the St. Lawrence Waterway and Power Treaty with Canada is "dead"—at least for this session of the United States Congress.

Senator Pittman, who, by the way, is chairman of the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had a chat with President Roosevelt at the White House on Saturday, the implication being that this subject may have been one of many under discussion, although we are told the dispatch to The Herald-Tribune did not say so.

As far as Canada is concerned, too, Senator Pittman and President Roosevelt may regard the St. Lawrence project as "dead"—at least for this session of the Canadian Parliament. Moreover, it will remain dead until the United States Senate finally has placed its mark of approval on it. Even then, unless conditions in this Dominion warrant further consideration of the undertaking, Canada will remain lukewarm towards it.

Canada requires every dollar upon which she can lay her hands for business much more immediately important than the deepening of the St. Lawrence. Conditions now are very different from what they were when a great part of the people of this country were in favor of getting on with it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

NO DIFFERENCE
The Edmonton Journal

Ontario has 6,000 school boards and is not able to prove it gives children any better education than does Scotland which has only forty.

BY SUPPRESSION
The Toronto Star

Another instance of advertisement by attempted suppression is noted by The Ottawa Journal, which points out that Tim Buck would probably have had an audience of only three or four hundred people if he had been allowed to hold his meeting in that city as at first intended. But when he encountered opposition and received the advertising "incidental thereto," people got talking about him and when he finally secured the Coliseum he was greeted by an audience of three or four thousand.

"The lesson," says The Journal, "is that it is unwise in this generation—and indeed impossible—to bottle up ideas."

We believe that is so. Ideas are like explosives; most dangerous when most confined. A pinch of gunpowder that would hardly make a noticeable flash if ignited in the open will speed a death-dealing bullet if it is penned up in a cartridge. And even if there is no bullet, it will go off with a bang.

So ideas that would pass unnoticed if no effort were made to prevent their dissemination also go off with a bang when they are confined in the cartridge of some suppressionist's stupidity. It has been proven so in Toronto; it has been proven so in Ottawa.

It is proven wherever foolish men try to suppress free speech—try to suppress it regardless of the fact that a man with a gag in his mouth attracts more attention than a man without one. It is human nature to wonder what he has to tell that is so important—so important that the authorities are trying to prevent him from saying it.

A THOUGHT

Burning lips and a wicked heart are like a potsherd covered with silver dust—Proverbs, xxv, 23.
Wickedness is a wonderfully elegant architect of misery, and shame, accompanied with terror, confusion, remorse, and endless perturbation.—Pope.

Loose Ends

Something important on the other side of the hill—tiding of sage everywhere—telling of tender buds—telling of admirable emotions—and disgrace next door.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IMPORTANT

THE OTHER NIGHT I came home late from the Legislature. Out in the country the night was clear and rich with the smell of spring. A tiny whisp of a crescent moon hung just over the shoulder of the hill and the oak trees' branches cut it like a spider's web. There were masses of Japanese plum blossoms fluttering against the high rocks, and crocuses in little yellow patches, each bloom tightly closed and upright for the night. From a swamp at the bottom of the hill came the thunder of the frogs' spring chorus.

Up above the oak trees you could see a couple of billion stars and it made me rather lonely to realize that out beyond those billions were billions more and each with tiny planets swirling about it much larger than this tenth-rate satellite of a tenth-rate sun that we call the earth. The hands of the watchman in which we see but one small grain, the Milky Way lay stretched across the void as it will be after our grain has cooled off and withered away. Yes, and back on the other side of the hill, the Legislature of British Columbia was sitting up late, working itself into a frenzy over the latest payment, the tax arrears and the sinking funds of Vancouver.

RISE UP

THE PHENOMENA of spring are well worthy of your attention. I do not mean the seedling of the buds, the opening of the flowers, the increasing green of the grass and the rising flow of the sap through the trees. I mean, rather, the rising up in the human animals who begin to come out of their dens at this season, the swelling of tender emotions, the blossoming of sentiments which have been dormant since last June.

Observe your stout and prosperous business leader pausing these days to gaze into hardware stores at a humble display of rakes, hoes and lawn rollers. Note how beery matrons brood over bedding plants displayed at the doors of florists' shops. In the street one of us is even to see a green group with an elephantine car, ignorant, poor fellow, of the fact that it is probably a dandelion.

Yes, the sage are moving again. It makes you sure that the season has not betrayed us, that spring is really here. True, most of these people will sink into customary dormancy by the middle of June, the shiny new rake will lie unused in the basement, the nice yellow gloves will be chewed up by the puppy and the dandelions will flourish unrestrained.

True, by an unjust arrangement of nature by a too-generous provision of Providence these spring gardeners will somehow manage to produce flowers just as we do who have labored all through the cold winter, who have dug in the wet, clammy soil of December, who have braved January winds to wrestle with roots and weeds, who have shivered in snow and sleet while your spring gardeners luxuriated indoors.

All true, all unjust and unfair, but we do not complain, we great-hearted gardeners of the full year. We tolerate with a great, encompassing tolerance these ephemeral spring gardeners, these brief sprouters, these rising sage that will soon sink again. We know that they will soon depart.

DAYLIGHT SAVING
To the Editor:—I would like to add to the "Three Office Workers" for their hopes for daylight saving. When we had daylight saving a few years ago, it was so enjoyable, an extra bit of gardening done, or several odd jobs, time for a ride, a nice walk or a game of tennis. There were things to do.

I have two children, and it will add to their fun, as well as our own. I certainly am for it, since I think it can make so difference to the unemployed one way or another.

A MOTHER.

To the Editor:—Financiers are working night and day in a nation-wide drive to destroy the Canadian National Railways. The absorption of the C.N.R. by the C.P.R. is their theme song. A formation of a People's Union or a Nationalist government is the way in which they hope to "put the deal over." Farmers who depend on the railways on which to ship their products are being left virtually stranded on the wilderness of the provinces without the railway facilities they now enjoy. Five thousand miles of track is slated to be torn up as an economy move under a unification of the railways day-dream.

Having played the Vancouver hockey team to a draw on the Terminal City grounds a month ago, the Garrison team will, to-morrow afternoon, try to administer a defeat to the last year's champions at the West Point Barracks, and to obtain a lead on the Prior Cup for the present season.

Last Wednesday evening the regular meeting of the Victoria Cymnastic Society was held, when this year's president, A. Peitch, was presented with a gold watch chain with the Welsh coat-of-arms in gold. S. Court made the presentation on behalf of the society.

In a one-sided game played last night at the North Ward Hall, the Redden brothers were victorious, when they defeated the Dixie Ross quintette by 22 points to 17.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST
By ALICE MICHAELS

I WONDER
Though it was very long ago,
You loved me best of all.
I wonder, sometimes, if you know
How much I love you still.
Your eyes, your words, that hour we had,
I wonder if you still are glad
You made me love you?

BURIAL
A few gay flowers and a memento's prayer,
A few old friends in a shrouded bier,
The step of his loved ones on the stair,
And a long, sad ride to an open tomb.

At last!
And at last we had spoken our last farewell
And we back at the desk of the business man
Or back at the counters with wares to sell.

Smiles and laughter suit business best
Years won't do when you're showing
And that is the reason no patron guessed
We'd been to a funeral at two o'clock.

House Destroyed
At Cordova Bay

Fire of unknown origin completely gutted the Cordova Bay home of Sam McBride over the week-end, the loss being estimated at about $2,000. It was reported by the British Fire Department as being fully covered by insurance.

The blaze was noticed by E. T. Jellison, a neighbor, after it had taken a secure hold on the house. The British engine was summoned but was unable to arrive in time to save any portion of the building.

SCOUT NEWS

FIRST CATHOLIC TROOP

The First Catholic Scouts met yesterday. After the duty patrol leader opened the meeting, Vincent Martin received his second class badge. Inspection of the patrol followed, together with special inspection of lanyards. Instruction was given for half an hour, the following passing tests in this period: J. Taylor, first-class signalling; W. Westwood, first-class swimming; F. Winslow, second-class signalling; W. Braunagel, tenderfoot; K. Douglas, tenderfoot. Marching practice and stove drill was carried on for a time, after which the meeting closed in the usual manner.

CATHOLIC WOLF CUB PACK

A successful card party was held in the Wolf Cub hall on Michigan Street, several parents kindly donated tables and refreshments, with the result that $18 was added to the Cub funds. Thanks are due to Frank Taylor, assistant Cub Master of the pack, convenor. Generous assistance was given by Mr. Wilby and the Cub committee.

A benefit concert and sketch dance will be held in the A.O.F. Hall, Corner Street, by the St. Andrew's and Columbian Society, on March 15. Those taking part in the programme will include Mrs. C. A. Goodwin, Mrs. A. Hill, Mrs. Coggins, Mrs. M. Carver, Miss A. Grant, Miss Morley, Miss M. Mitchell, Miss E. and L. Robinson, R. Morrison, W. C. Fyfe and T. Obee and Stan James, comedians. Peter Cunningham will preside.

North Quadra Scout Troop and Cub Pack will hold a St. Patrick's dance on March 22, at Mount View High School.

AUSTRALIA IS BIG CUSTOMER

Empire Countries Rise on Scale of Importers and Exporters, Report Shows

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 11.—Australia is to-day Canada's third-best customer in point of domestic exports, having risen from the seventh place in 1933 and eighth place in 1931, says the weekly review of the Trade and Commerce Department. In imports Australia steadily holds sixth position.

In the adjustment of international commerce, as denoted by Canada's export and import trade in 1934, some curious facts are shown, particularly the realignment of Empire countries as a result of imperial preferences. The Netherlands, which held the position now occupied by Australia, has been relegated to seventh place in exports and in imports from eighth to eleventh position. Belgium has climbed up one point to fifth position in exports, and British South Africa has in the past year jumped up from eleventh to sixth place.

New Zealand has climbed steadily from fourteenth place in 1933, thirteenth in 1934, to ninth last year, while British India is now in twelfth place after having remained stationary in sixteenth position for a number of years.

BRITAIN STILL FIRST

While Great Britain remains as Canada's best market, the United States is running a close second, having to a large extent closed up the gap which separated it from first position. Exports to Great Britain had increased by $40,000,000 to $279,359,057 last year, while those to the United States increased by $52,000,000 to $223,544,002. On the other hand, in imports, the United States retains its first place, having been $180,000,000 ahead of the United Kingdom in 1934 and $119,000,000 in 1933. In imports the British West Indies, as a group, takes third position, pushing Germany down to fourth place. British India has climbed up from seventh to fifth position. France has dropped from fifth to seventh and, due to increased imports of crude petroleum direct from the oilfields, Colombia has climbed from thirteenth place in 1933 to eighth position.

ROYAL OAK

A jolly crowd attended the old-time dance at the Royal Oak Community Hall Friday evening under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute. Red Barker's orchestra was in attendance, and Don Gayley acted as master of ceremonies. Leo Holder entertained with songs and guitar selections, and E. Salisbury played the accordion. Supper was served by Miss K. Oldfield, Mrs. W. J. Barker, Mrs. F. Carine and Mrs. J. O. Nicholson.

The regular monthly meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Community Hall.

The fortnightly five hundred card party will be held Thursday evening in the Community Hall.

On Friday evening, March 15, a students' old-time practice dance will be held.

New York's Chrysler building has thirty elevators, which carry a total of 34,500 passengers daily.

Stories in
STAMPSThe PERRON
LIEGE

In the market places of many medieval villages in western Europe stand a group of stone figures known as a "base of stone" from which processions were led to the people. In France and Belgium these were called "perrons."

In 1668, Charles the Bold asked the city of Liege, Belgium, and, incensed at the resistance of the inhabitants, ordered the perron removed and inscribed with all kinds of insults to the people of Liege.

A new perron was built in Liege's market place in the seventeenth century and it is this structure which is pictured on Belgium's 30 centimes stamp issued in 1919. Both perrons and stamps recall a bitter incident in Liege's history.

Rosicrucians Here
Start New Year

The vernal equinox on March 21, when the sun enters the astrological sign of Aries, upon its celestial journey around the Zodiac, marks the ancient beginning of the New Year, commemorated by the Rosicrucians Order, A.M.O.C., a philosophical fraternity.

Miss Jones, the secretary of the Victoria Rosicrucian Lodge, stated: "For centuries the peoples of the Orient celebrated the beginning of the New Year on or about March 21, when this astronomical phenomenon occurred, which also appeared the logical time, being spring, when all nature was in a state of re-birth and awakening. The ancient Egyptians declared the advent an occasion for festivities, and partook of a symbolic feast of corn bread, salt and grape juice, representing the principal elements of man's nature."

"The traditional history of the Rosicrucians," relates Miss Jones, "records its establishment during the reign of Pharaoh Amenhotep IV, 1350 B.C., who is said to have instituted the ancient ceremony and feast, which is continued in commemoration in the same ancient manner by the Rosicrucians throughout the world to-day. The importance of the order declared by proclamation from the grand lodge of its order in San Jose, California, annually, the exact date of the ceremony."

The newly appointed officers for the local body will be installed following the ancient rites. Rosicrucians from adjacent cities are expected to attend.

BOOKS

The monthly meeting of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Cairns Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. G. A. Sooke, in the chair. Arrangements were made to hold a silver tea at Sooke Harbor House Tuesday afternoon, March 13, in aid of the Boy Scout fund. A plant and bulb sale will be held in connection with the tea. Arrangements were also made for the St. Patrick's novelty dance to be held in Charters Hall on Saturday, March 16. It was decided that the card parties be discontinued for this month. A sub-committee was appointed, with Mrs. W. Cairns and Mrs. B. Macdonald assigned to Sooke and Mrs. O. R. Jones and Mrs. K. Cairns to Victoria. Mrs. William Cairns, convenor for public health and child welfare, made inquiries as to the duties of the school nurse in case of epidemics.

Nurse Wilkie and Misses Hinch and Morrow, of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service, spoke on the subject. The president presented Mrs. Frank Gray with a gift on her retirement from the office of vice-president. It was decided that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. A. Sooke, Sooke Harbor House. Dr. Straight, of the Sidney Experimental Farm, will give a talk on plants. Tea was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Strong.

"A Foundation Garment With Figure Control"

$4.95

Have you had your figure analyzed? Do you know exactly what features you specially need in a Foundation? For example—here is a La Camille Corsetette for the figure that is full through the hips or diaphragm. By using no elastic side sections, it gives absolute control... and the front lace makes it adjustable. The uplift bust section is semi-detachable. A marvelous garment for figure control!

See MRS. S. M. PRITCHARD

Intermediates Enjoy Programme

An interesting address on John Sebastian Bach, the great composer, and his works was given by Mrs. C. S. Bach, president of the Musical Arts Society, before the members of the Intermediate branch at its meeting on Saturday evening at the Victoria Truth Centre.

Mrs. Dorothy McKicking, the president, was in the chair and welcomed Mrs. Bach, Mrs. W. S. McKicking and Miss H. Scovcroft. The secretary, Mr. James McVie, and the treasurer, Winston Silver, read their reports.

A delightful programme, arranged by Billy Inglis, was much enjoyed. Piano solos were given by Margaret North and Marjorie McConnell, and vocal solos by Miss Elsie George and Miss Sheila Conway. Marjorie Dixon and Mrs. Pollard were heard in piano duets.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served, under the direction of Lucille McKay. It was announced that a card party will be held at the home of Miss Dorothy Cox on March 27.

St. John's W.A.—The business meeting of St. John's Senior W.A. will be held in the guild-room, Mason Street, on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

To Hold Tea—The Spiritual Science Temple, 1404 Douglas Street, will hold another one of their popular social teas Tuesday from 2:30 to 3:30 o'clock, with several readers in attendance, also a sale of home cooking. In the evening, at 8 o'clock, an auction sale of superlatives will be held, also tea will be served, with readings by F. Karna.

MAY CONTEST SEAT AT OTTAWA

Mrs. George Black, wife of the former Speaker of the House of Commons, who has indicated that she would consider running for office in her husband's constituency in the Yukon if she received a nomination.

OBIFA CLUB

Next Tuesday evening, the Obifa Club of the Oak Bay United Church, corner Granite and Mitchell Streets, will meet at 8 o'clock in the church parlors. The meeting will be held under the convener'ship of Miss Lucy Shaw of the Modern Religion group. This meeting will inaugurate a new series of discussions relative to the various phases of the work of the church, home and abroad. The speakers for the evening will be Miss Estelle Clarke, who will speak on "Africa," Miss Doris Curtis will talk on "Trinidad." All young people are cordially welcomed.

Guides Held Card Party — The Eighth Victoria Puck Guides held a very enjoyable card party at St. Martin's Hall, Obed Avenue, Friday. Bridge and whist were played. Prize winners at whist were Mrs. Fouracre and Mr. Geo. Cook; bridge, Mrs. Harry Rogers and Mr. P. Brandon. Candy was sold in gaily colored packages. Refreshments were served by the guides, with Miss Whaley in charge in the absence of Mrs. Emerson.

LEGION BRANCH HAS BIRTHDAY

Shawigan Lake, March 11.—The women's auxiliary to the Malheur Branch of the Canadian Legion celebrated their first year of active service with a birthday party, the affair being held in the S.I.A.A. Hall Wednesday evening. Mrs. H. Grainger, president, welcomed the guests and arranged a programme of songs, instrumental music, guessing games and community singing.

During the evening, Comrade E. W. Bonfield presented a gold party-president's badge to Mrs. Grainger, who, after serving the first year as president of the W.A., was re-elected this year. A pleasing feature was the cutting of the birthday cake by the president, assisted by Mr. Bonfield.

Comrade G. Orr acted as chairman and the following programme was rendered: Musical monologues by Comrade Grainger; Mrs. Rathbone sang "For Years to Come" and "When You Come Home"; Mrs. Nightingale rendered two violin numbers; Comrade Fox sang two humorous songs, and Mrs. C. Page sang "Rose of Picardy" and "End of a Perfect Day." There was community singing and two novel guessing contests.

Mr. Bonfield, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. S. Saunders and Mrs. C. Fielden were the winners. Supper was served, followed by a dance.

Mrs. Purvis, of the Duncan W.A., moved a vote of thanks to the local W.A.

Mrs. J. C. Davidson had charge of the supper.

BEAUTY IS PRETTY HANDY

By ALICIA HART
I never have seen lovelier hands than those of V. Bradley, screen actress and night club singer. Not only are they long, slender and graceful, but smooth as satin and white as snow.

When I asked Miss Bradley what she does to keep her hands in such splendid condition, she told me that she never fails to rinse them in very cold water after each evening's work, and after the drying drying which she pushes back and cutsicle around her nails, she always applies hand lotion.

"In addition," the pretty star added, "once a week I go to bed wearing rubber gloves into which I have put damp bran or moist cornmeal. Either of these tends to remove cuticle and other scaling from my fingers."

When asked about other beauty secrets, V. Bradley admitted that she uses a plain egg facial mask once a week. She cleans her face, smooths on a layer of slightly beaten white, lets it dry and then applies a layer of yolk. She repeats the process until all of the egg has been used. Then she rests until the next day.

Afterward, she washes in off with warm, steady water and puts on nourishing cream before she uses foundation cream and fresh makeup.

Since Miss Bradley's beauty comes not after the leading of sleek, she is tall and slender with dark Auburn hair—she chooses rather heavy perfumes that harmonize with her sophisticated type. Fairly strong clinging oriental scents.

Fairbanks Party Reaches Miami

Miami, Fla., March 11.—Douglas Fairbanks and Lady Ashley came here today from Havana, aboard the yacht Caroline.

The Caroline's anchor was dropped a quarter-mile off shore in Biscayne Bay. In the party were Fred Astaire, of songs and screen fame; Jack Dunlop, Donald Ogden and Lady Duffin of London.

Fairbanks and Lady Ashley were guests of Governor Sir Bodo Clifford of the Bahamas at a beach luncheon Saturday at Nassau.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

THREE MEALS DAILY MAY BE SUITABLE AT SIX MONTHS

Three meals a day may be initiated very early in the child's life, provided four meals are not accepted with appetite and relish. Babies as young as five and six months have been put on a three-meal-a-day schedule and profited thereby. Though for some children this interval may be right, for others it is too long. The criterion is the child's appetite for food, and his weekly gain in weight. If he eats better when fed on the four-hour schedule than on that of six hours, it is better to eat that often, lengthen the interval.

NEVER HUNGRY

Mrs. J.C.W. writes: "Please advise me about my twenty-month-old girl weighing thirty-three pounds. She has a very poor appetite, in fact, is never hungry. She gets three spoonfuls of cod liver oil daily, and about twenty-four ounces of milk. Would you say that three meals a day would be enough for her?"

"She is lively and sleeps splendidly."

but has dark circles under her eyes, and no color whatever. She refuses orange juice.

"Just what amount of food should a child of her age take? I shall be obliged for means suitable for her."

SKIN THE MILK

I shall be happy to send you leaflets on "Feeding from Two to Four Years" and "Psychological and Physical Reasons for Appetitlessness." If you will send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope. Address Myrtle Meyer Eldred, care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department and include your full name and address on the stamped envelope.

The child is a good weight, and the appetitlessness may be the result of a diet too rich in fats. Three meals a day are sufficient at this age. I suggest that you try eliminating some of the cream from the milk. You might try another type of vitamin D—perhaps one of the concentrated oils, or vitaminol, to see what effect this change might have.

The usual amounts eaten by children this age are: Two to four tablespoons of cereal, one-half a cup of fruit, four cups of milk, one or two tablespoons of meat or fish or chicken, one-half cup of soup or more.

The baby might enjoy the sections of a whole orange better than the juice, or perhaps tomato juice or grapefruit juice instead. The solid foods were not mentioned and they are as important as the fluid ones at this age. To stress them might cause the appetitlessness.

St. Mark's W.A.—St. Mark's W.A. will meet to-morrow afternoon in the Parish Hall. On Monday, March 12, the members will hold a luncheon at the Hudson's Bay store.

Daughters of St. George—The drill team of the Princess Patricia Lodge, No. 238, will have a special practice on Wednesday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. All members of the team are asked to be present, by order of the drill captain.

TELLS TRUTH IN AFFIDAVIT

Toronto Woman Tells Under Oath How Fruit - a - lives Brought Lasting Relief from Constipation

Thanked for her lasting recovery from constipation, Mrs. E. Seydort, 115 Oak Avenue, Toronto, has just sworn in an affidavit before a notary public that everyone can be sure of its absolute truth. Mrs. Seydort states: "I was badly injured at childbirth, the injury resulting in continued constipation. For years I tried all sorts of remedies, but received little or no relief. My nerves were affected, I felt run-down, my complexion was yellow, and I had all vitality. Just over two years ago I started taking Fruit-a-lives, and now I am up at 6:30 A.M. every morning, doing my own housework, I am quite regular and my complexion has lost its yellow tinge. I have even children and rely on Fruit-a-lives to keep them regular, too."

If you are bothered with chronic constipation, Mrs. Seydort's case will get lasting relief now—Fruit-a-lives. They have helped bring new health to thousands of men and women who have suffered from constipation, indigestion, sick headaches and kindred ills.

Cops of Mrs. Seydort's complete recovery from constipation will be on record. Sales Manager For Studebaker Corporation Reports Business Optimism Marked improvement in business conditions throughout Canada was noted by C. S. Fletcher, sales manager of the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, during the trip across the Dominion which brought him to Victoria to-day.

"People are distinctly optimistic on the prairies, anticipating big crops this year," he declared. "This is par-particularly true of Saskatchewan. Business in Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver is well in advance of the figures for last year.

"Automobile registrations for the first two months of the year in Vancouver are 70 per cent higher than last year's figures for the same period last year. Registrations in Victoria are 85 per cent higher than last year.

"In February the Skudabaker Corporation shipped 1,300 more cars than the number of cars shipped three times the same month of 1934. This is primarily due to the attractive features of the new Excelsior-Ride Skudabaker models, as well as being the result of the reorganization of the entire financial structure of the Skudabaker Corporation, which has reduced our overhead by $53,000.00.

As a consequence of this, we have been able to maintain our quality and reduce prices materially.

"Following the main automobile shows in the east, and subsequent to the arrival of the new models in the west, we have expanded our dealer organization extensively. As a result of the enthusiastic response from both dealer and customer we plan to make increased expenditures in the west for advertising and sales promotion work.

"Studebaker's new exclusive Flamingo independent front wheel suspension, together with compound hydraulic brakes and all-steel body construction, have met with instantaneous public approval. Evidence of this in Victoria is to be seen in the doubling of the sales of the Jameson Motor Limited this year as compared with the figure for last year.

The reputation of eighty-four years' standing as a builder of quality vehicles the Studebaker corporation intends this year to specialize more than ever before in the history of the company on the development and selling of lightweight commercial line of trucks, ranging from one and one-half to four tons in capacity."

Pointing out that the Studebaker Corporation is affiliated with the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company of Chicago, Mr. Fletcher said that the latter firm had developed a complete range of eight and twelve-cylinder passenger cars for 1935. These, he said, would conform in every respect to the well-known Pierce-Arrow standard of high quality.

"During the last fourteen years," he said, "I have represented Studebaker in most countries of the world and never have I found a more attractive place in which to live."

Duncan, March 11.—"Accidental death" was the verdict of a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Joan Varaga, forty-five-year-old Hungarian, who died in Duncan Hospital on Thursday from injuries received the previous day at Camp Six, Youbourn where he was a bucker. It was his second day's work at the camp. He was a single man and had served in the Great War, according to camp mates.

Liberty Cap, the cone of an extinct hot spring in Yellowstone Park is 3,200 years old. Its age has been determined through the minute quantities of radium it contains.

"My timid sister Mary an' Ma's strong minded sister Julia are visiting' us. In a way it is fair an' even, but it seems to me that Ma an' her sister are in the majority."

State Of War In Cuba To-day

Calm Restored After Outbreaks in Which Ten Persons Killed

Associated Press Havana, March 11.—Bodies of five persons killed in Cuba's week-end of fighting were found to-day in the residential suburb of Marianao, on Havana itself, and in a tractor-trailer in the city.

The discovery of the bodies in Marianao and the death of a wounded man in a hospital brought the total number dead for the week-end to ten. Havana streets were practically deserted except for patrols of soldiers and sailors.

The government of President Carlos Mendieta, ailing a weapon forged more than a year ago by one of its enemies, declared existence of a state of war throughout Cuba to-day in its efforts to escape overthrow.

The decree provides for trials in councils of war for all persons arrested for acts against the public order, prohibits all persons from appearing on the streets at night without special military passes and gives the military powers almost unlimited authority. It was made effective immediately.

The decree is one used for the first time in Cuban history by order of Dr. Antonio Guiteras, secretary of War in the cabinet of former President Ramon Grau San Martin in November, 1933, at the time the Grau government was beset by difficulties with the Mendieta regime.

WILL START WORK SOON

Tenders to Be Called For Warehouse Building For Hydrographic Survey

Tenders will be called shortly for the warehouse building for the hydrographic survey building near the Johnson Street bridge. It was learned in a letter read before directors of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon to-day at Spencer's from D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria.

Replying to a message from the local chamber asking that something be done to start the new marine building here, Mr. Plunkett wrote to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce that the building for the warehouse would be called within a few days.

The main building for Victoria must have additional money voted before it can be started. Mr. Plunkett said in his letter. The additional site in Victoria has already been purchased for the building and he said he expected to receive money for it within a few days.

The decision to build the warehouse building for the hydrographic survey at Johnson Street bridge, Mr. Plunkett pointed out, would ensure the maintenance of this branch at Victoria for all time.

NEED NOT WORRY

Mr. Plunkett and C. H. Dickie, M.P. for Nanaimo, discussed the Chamber of Commerce that they would do all in their power to have the destroyers kept at Esquimalt and not removed to Prince Rupert, as has been suggested. They pointed out that the removal was hardly possible.

A special committee of the chamber will deal with the communication from the Canadian Fisheries Association asking that a permanent Minister of Fisheries be named at Ottawa.

A communication from the Pacific Seafarers' Union, which is the disadvantage of day-laborers, proposed for Victoria will be sent to the city council, which will deal with the matter at its meeting this evening.

The directors went on record as favoring the establishment of fair trade boards for Canada, on the motion of Frank Partridge. An invitation to the directors to attend the dinner at the Empress Hotel Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when Vancouver merchants will meet members of the cabinet was given by James Fletcher. Vancouver merchants are coming to Victoria that day on a specially chartered steamer to meet the government.

BOMBING

Bombers started early yesterday evening. There was a terrific explosion at 4:40 p.m., a block from the office of the Associated Press and another five minutes later. Both bombs exploded in a cafe without injuring anybody.

The bodies of two men, Armando Pineda, and his father-in-law, Miguel Roque Pineda, were found near the home of United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery. Pineda was a member of the student strike to-day, after which shooting broke out in midtown Havana.

Saturday night's outbreak was the widest since the November, 1933, revolution and gay Havana became gay Havana under the state of siege which prohibited the regular Sunday carnival, parade and similar festivities.

WANT VICTORIA ON RADIO CHAIN

Opinion that strong representation should be made to have Victoria included in the Canadian radio broadcasting system was expressed at the luncheon meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the Junior Chamber will deal further with the matter.

It was pointed out that Victoria pays into the federal treasury the sum of $25,000 a year in radio license. James Fletcher said that if this sum were returned to Victoria a first-class station could be built and maintained for a year, without having to ask the government for an additional grant.

George McGregor also favored something being done to put Victoria on the map as far as the radio was concerned. "But we're simple and old-fashioned and don't do anything about it," he said.

A letter was read from Hector Charlton, chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, in which he referred to the local station as "rather an obsolete character," and pointed out the financial difficulties of linking Victoria with the rest of Canada.

P. E. George made the report on behalf of the Junior Chamber.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The monthly meeting of the Spanish Welfare Association has been postponed until further notice.

The government to-day fixed March 20 as the date for a poll on the issue of the day in the morning.

A meeting of the Central Council, Spanish Welfare Association, will be held to-morrow evening in the Tait School at 8 o'clock. All delegates are requested to attend.

Inspector John Shivers of the provincial police to-day was appointed warden of the common jail at Kamloops. Sgt. Colin K. McEwen will take on similar duties at Prince George.

The Musical Festival Association has opened its office at 233 Pemberton Building to receive entries for the festival. The office will be open each day this week from 10 till 6 o'clock and the telephone number is 8 9925.

Leo Roy, Chinese, 610 Chatham Street, who was taken to the Jubilee Hospital on Saturday afternoon suffering from a heart ailment, died yesterday morning, according to a city police report. He was attended by Dr. T. W. A. Gray.

Hearing of the libel case against Jack Cradock opened in the City Police Court this morning and adjourned until Wednesday, after his first prosecution witness was called, pending medical examination of the accused at the request of defense counsel J. Perceval Wall.

Alfred Mason, K.C., M.P. for Omineca, will be the principal speaker at Ward Two Liberal meeting to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, at Liberal headquarters, corner of Government and Broughton;—Mason will be accompanied by a number of Liberal friends and friends are invited.

Charged with obtaining $200 by false pretenses, Mohan Singh, an East Indian, was remanded until Wednesday to set a date for hearing, when he appeared in the City Police Court this morning. E. H. M. Foot is counsel for the accused and was unable to appear owing to illness.

The annual meeting of the Junior Conservative Association will be held at the association rooms, Campbell Building, on Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock. The election of officers will take place and refreshments and dancing will follow. All young Conservatives and their friends are invited to attend.

Theft of 100 packages of assorted tobacco, four dozen chocolate bars and $1.45 in change, on Saturday night, was reported to the police by a resident of the city. The packages were found at King's Road and Shelbourne Street. The store was robbed while Mr. Robinson was out. When he returned shortly before 11 o'clock he discovered the place had been ransacked. Entry was made by means of a pass key through the rear door.

Vancouver Chamber of Commerce Civil Affairs debating team beat Victoria debaters in Vancouver Saturday night. The subject was "Resolved: That a merger of the C.N.R. and C.P.R. would be in the best interests of the people of Canada." The Victoria Junior Chamber debaters consisted of Frank Hunter, Leslie O'Brien and Percy George, who took the negative. The Vancouver debaters were A. T. Campbell, G. Clemence and W. Whitehead.

An emergency meeting of the Victoria Poultry Association will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. Due to developments on the mainland, it is absolutely essential that poultry and egg prices should be immediately fixed if they are to be a marketing scheme on Vancouver Island. For this reason the secretary has called an open meeting at which the report of the committee designated to draw up the plan will be heard. All those interested are invited to attend.

W. B. Franklin spoke to a crowded house on the ground floor of the Hibben-Bone Building yesterday on "Collapse of Civilization." He led his audience through days of ancient Babylon and various world empires, ending in our own day. Mr. Franklin stressed that the name of Babylon's conqueror was given one hundred years before he was born, and also that the capture would be accomplished. After telling of the glory days of Greece and Rome, Mr. Franklin claimed the nations of Europe could not be united since the Bible declared "they shall not cleave one to another."

Five Year Plan Questions Pour In

Questions from persons who want to know about the Five Year Plan for bringing new life to Victoria and the island are pouring into the Tourist Trade and Development Association to be answered from the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre at the "Prosperity" demonstration Friday evening by T. H. Belick, secretary of the association.

Among the questions which came in to-day were:

From W. O. Wallace, Brentwood: "What effect will your movement have on taxation? Will it directly assist the agriculturist and small fruit-grower on our island? If so, how?"

From Robert M. Oliphant, "H": "The requirement of $40,000, what percentage will be allotted to advertising? Of this amount how much will be spent outside this island?"

From Arthur W. Harp, 577 Pandora Avenue: "The Five Year Plan seems a good one on the surface. But at the end of five years what will we have—nothing? Or will we have a definite improvement in existing conditions? Will I personally derive any benefit from this project, or will it mainly benefit its promoters?"

From J. B. Barwick, London Life Office: "Has the finance committee made any arrangements whereby a percentage of donations and proceeds of entertainments shall be set aside for the erection of permanent buildings such as auditorium, ice arena, swimming pool, etc., which would improve the city and district as a tourist center? If no such fund has been started should it not be done immediately? Has a legislative committee been formed to secure assistance from the government in the matter of road and fishing improvements?"

Mrs. S. McOrmond Passes Away

Mrs. Margaret McOrmond, widow of Samuel McOrmond, passed away yesterday at the family residence, 305 Quebec Street, aged sixty-eight years. A native of Leoburn, Ireland, she had been a resident of Victoria for twenty-three years. She is survived by two sisters, Miss Katie McOrmond and Miss Elizabeth McOrmond, of Victoria.

Mr. McOrmond had been a member of the First United Church for many years. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will conduct the funeral service on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the Thomson Funeral Home.

The remains will be laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Tom Uphill, M.P., who recently returned from a visit to the Soviet Union, will address the C.P. study class to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock, in the C.P. Hall, 724 Port Street. His subject will be "What I Saw in Russia." The meeting is open to the public.

FLOOD REPORT IS SUBMITTED

Break in Sumas Dike "Act of God" House Informed

The expression "act of God" clearly applied to the break in the Sumas dike and ensuing flood of the lake area during the January storms, according to a report of the Provincial Water Board presented to the B.C. Legislature after a special investigation was made.

No blame can be attached to any persons for the break, and the fact that one section of the dike was weakened did not have any effect, because the flood water would have topped the dike anyway.

The breaks in the dike showed the accumulation of water above the dike and did much more good than harm," the commission reported.

The suggestion that operation of pumps on the Sumas canal would have prevented the break is not within the limits of economic feasibility. All the works were properly designed and maintained in as good condition as the funds permitted by the land owners permitted.

Weather conditions were such as to cause a flood condition unprecedented since the dike was written, and greater than in the last years, as the trees showed, according to the commission, which consisted of J. E. Lane, chairman, Major J. C. MacDonald and E. Davis.

OPEN FESTIVAL ENTRY OFFICE

Interest Spreads Far in Ninth Annual Competition of Music Association

With considerable interest being shown by musical organizations of the lower mainland and Washington an entry list exceeding the 200 received last year was anticipated by officials of the ninth annual Victoria Musical Festival who opened offices in the Pemberton Building this morning to receive entries for the competition, all this week.

There was a large number of entries waiting in the mail this morning and all those who had been immediately settled down to the duties of classifying them. Entries will close with next Monday morning's mail and the draw for the competition will be made Tuesday.

There are 157 classes listed in the syllabus for 1935 and it is expected all will be fairly well contested. From the number of entries made from festival officials, it appeared the divisions for junior and male choirs would draw the largest lists of competitors.

Entries have already been received from various Washington centres and before the week is over it is expected groups from Seattle, Portland, Spokane and Tacoma will be on hand. Officials for the festival for:

Executive committee—President, P. A. Gibbs; first vice-president, Dr. R. E. Peterson; second vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Redburn; third vice-president, P. C. Routley; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Gibbs; recording secretary, Mrs. E. A. Gibbs; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. A. Gibbs; secretary, Mrs. E. A. Gibbs; and a number of other officials.

The festival will be held at the Victoria Jubilee Hospital, where the festival will be held. The festival will be held at the Victoria Jubilee Hospital, where the festival will be held.

ASSIZE CROWD DISAPPOINTED

Nine Jurors Too Old Or Missing So Opening of Trials Is Delayed

The crowd of men and women who gathered at the court house this morning to see the opening of the criminal sessions had to trudge up three stories because the last-century elevator had chosen to-day to go out of commission.

A short while afterwards the crowd had to pour down the stairs and out of the building without having heard or seen anything of dramatic interest.

All they saw was the presiding judge, Mr. Justice Robertson, and the officials entered. What they heard was the calling of the jury roll by Sheriff Gordon and the discovery when the men answered their names, that six of the thirty-six summoned were more than sixty years of age and thus ineligible to serve.

The names of three drawn in the jury ballot last week, whom the sheriff informed the court, could not be found. This left the jury panel short nine men.

The result was that Prosecutor M. B. Jackson, K.C., arose and urged that, in the interests of the accused, who should have a full quota of jurors to hear the case, the court should be replaced by the nine missing or ineligible.

The justice instructed the sheriff to go out and get nine more jurors and ordered adjournment until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, when the jury roll would be called again with thirty-six names approved as eligible.

DANIELL WANTS TO RE-ELECT

Before the court arose, however, A. J. Patton, speaking on behalf of financial interests, charged counsel for E. H. Daniell, charged with an immoral act in Oak Bay, asked the court for an adjournment of the Daniell case until next week. He explained that Mr. Henderson is at present tied up before the courts in Vancouver. Mr. Patton also said that Daniell had wanted to re-elect and instead of taking the full jury trial which he chose last week-end, he now wanted to take a speedy trial before Judge Lampman without a jury. However, the prosecution had refused to agree to a re-election.

Prosecutor Jackson arose and said that the Attorney-General was insisting now on a full jury trial for Daniell.

Mr. Justice Robertson asked Mr. Patton to get in touch over the telephone with Mr. Henderson in Vancouver before the court re-assembled at 2:30 o'clock and then, after finding out just when Mr. Henderson could be certain of being here, to renew his application for adjournment in the Daniell case.

It is a very serious offence this man has been charged with and he should be defended," the justice said.

MRS. CAMPBELL IS OWN LAWYER

The only accused in court to-day was Mrs. Aradh Campbell, charged with smashing the windows of the court jury hall before the case last week-end, he now wanted to take a speedy trial before Judge Lampman without a jury. However, the prosecution had refused to agree to a re-election.

Prosecutor Jackson arose and said that the Attorney-General was insisting now on a full jury trial for Daniell.

Mr. Justice Robertson asked Mr. Patton to get in touch over the telephone with Mr. Henderson in Vancouver before the court re-assembled at 2:30 o'clock and then, after finding out just when Mr. Henderson could be certain of being here, to renew his application for adjournment in the Daniell case.

FATHERS, SONS HOLD BANQUET

Professor E. S. Farr Is Speaker at Function Staged By Two Y.M.C.A. Clubs

Over eighty fathers and sons sat down Saturday evening at the annual banquet of the Y.M.C.A. Metro and Cyclone Clubs, held in the "Y" cafeteria, which was gaily decorated for the occasion with spring flowers and the colors of the two clubs.

The value of the work being done for youth by the "Y" and the churches and the Sunday schools was stressed by Professor E. S. Farr of the faculty of Victoria College, who spoke on the subject of "Advances in Civilization." He referred to the great debt which young people owe to the Y and the churches, as well as to their parents.

Professor Farr outlined the changes in the status of youth during the last 400 years.

Wilson Billingsley, mentor of the Cyclone, who presided at the banquet, referred to the Y and the churches as the best friends of youth, and working with so fine a group of boys as those to be found in the two clubs.

The toast to the fathers was proposed to by E. G. Robertson. That to the "Y" was given by George Todd, and answered by Frank Poulton, general secretary of the association.

A vote of thanks to the members of the girls' auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., who were largely responsible for the success of the evening, was moved by Don Smith.

Professor Farr was thanked by Ralph E. Dent, mentor of the Metro.

Rev. J. E. Warr led the gathering in a hearty sing-song, with Vivian Shoemaker at the piano. Other musical features of the evening included vocal solos by Harry Morrison and flute solos by Madeline Young.

CAR UPSETS; THREE ESCAPE

Herman F. Williams and Parents of Sooke in Crash on Highway

Herman F. Williams, of Borden Bay Beach, Sooke, and his parents narrowly escaped serious injury in an accident on the Island Highway near Parsons Bridge about 3:30 o'clock yesterday evening.

The car in which they were driving turned over after striking a rock on the highway and the occupants escaped with only minor bruises and a shaking up.

According to provincial police, Mr. Williams served as he attempted to avoid the car and in doing so his car struck a city-bound machine, driven by W. R. Hick, R.R. 2.

The Williams car turned on its side across the highway and traffic was held up for nearly two hours before the machine could be removed. A S.P.C.A. official was called to shoot the cow, which had a faulty broken.

Sergeant R. Harvey and Constable A. Dillabough of the provincial police responded to the call. First aid was rendered Mrs. Hick, who was slightly bruised by the impact of the two machines.

ALD. BROWN QUILTS POST

Resigns Chairmanship of City Finance Committee Through Ill-health

Uncertain health to-day forced Alderman P. H. Brown, chairman of the finance and legislative committee of the City Council and city representative on the board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital, to tender his resignation to the mayor for those posts.

In his letter of resignation he assured the mayor of his willingness to assist his successor and the city's chief magistrate to the fullest of his ability, but asked relief from the responsibility of those posts.

For seven years chairman of what is generally considered the city's most important committee, Alderman Brown expressed his regret over being forced to vacate his position.

"I cannot act as chairman of the finance committee and do justice to the mayor and the city of Victoria at a time when the mayor needs someone who can take an active interest in all questions in every way," Alderman Brown stated.

"My resignation will, of course, relieve me of the post of acting mayor, but I will serve as a member of the finance committee and do everything in my power to help the new chairman and the mayor, if it is his wish and that of the council that I remain on that body," he added.

His resignation was addressed to the mayor as follows:

"Please accept this letter as my resignation from the position of chairman of the finance and legislative committee, also as a city representative on the board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital.

I regret very much having to relinquish these duties but considerations of health compel me to take this step. I will, of course, be glad to serve as a member of the finance and legislative committee and also accept any other duty which I am able to carry out."

A successor to Alderman Brown will be named at to-morrow's meeting of the City Council.

FUEL INQUIRY TO GO TO MINES

April 1 Set For Investigation of Costs at Nanaimo; Gasoline Prices Next

Mr. Justice M. A. MacDonald, who is presiding over the Coal and Petroleum Products Commission, has fixed not later than April 1 at Nanaimo to commence the investigation of the cost of production of coal at the Vancouver Island mines.

April 20 has been fixed as the date to commence at Penticton the investigation into the cost of production of coal in the East Kootenay area, with similar at Nelson and other East Kootenay points.

C. H. O'Halloran, commission counsel, is now at work here assembling material for the Nanaimo session. He has already assembled voluminous material in preparation for the launching of the oil phase of the inquiry.

The commission's accountants, Price, Waterhouse and Co., have for some weeks been busy on a preliminary report on the books and operations of the Canadian Collieries and the Imperial Oil Company.

Max Schmeling Batters Steve Hamas Into Helplessness

THE SPORTS MIRROR

CHAMPIONSHIP, which booted it to $108,400—the richest purse ever won by a horse—in the Santa Anita Handicap, from a steeplechaser to a flat racer has parallels in the case of the ill-fated Chase Me and Brown Jack, which was just retired as England's greatest distance runner. It is the reverse of the usual procedure, however. Many foremost steeplechasers were flat racers of more or less success.

It will be interesting to see how well Ascur returns to his first love in the 1935 Grand National at Aintree. Ascur's young owner, Frederick M. Alger Jr., of Detroit, had the British classic in mind when he paid Joseph H. Widener $5,000 for the seven-year-old chestnut gelding last autumn. Alger announced his intention of permitting the Irish horse to compete in both fields. Ascur probably never would have reached the picture-book plant of the Los Angeles Turf Club had Mr. Widener decided to break up his jumping string, and had not Alger taken him out of steeplechasing because of the smallness of the reward.

Alger had an idea that Ascur, like Chase Me, might prove a useful performer on the flat. Chase Me, it will be remembered, was first a family and saddle horse, competing in horse shows down Maryland way, then a performer over brush and through the field, and, on occasion, a steeplechaser. Up until this time Chase Me was trained by his owner, Mrs. J. B. Bailey Jr., and her daughters. It was now decided to give him a chance on the flat. This he won with consummate ease and he knew the claiming race he was to win.

Packs continued to trail Chase Me. In the late fall of 1933, he won the Bryan and O'Hara Memorial in commanding style. It was his sixth straight victory.

Chase Me won his first start in 1934, and moved into New York to take a shot at the metropolitan Handicap, in which the lovable Chase Me broke his leg, and had to be dropped. He one will ever know how badly good he was. He had matched Equiptone's every stride.

Incidentally, it was in this event that Equiptone was disqualified in favor of Mr. Khayman.

Ascur has fully proved his worth. The product of the Ould Sod with the Spanish name gave such as Good Goods, Pleasant, and Watch Him weight and a beating in the Washington Handicap. He steamed in second to Fairbro in the Navy de Grace Handicap, but whipped the world record-breaking Discovery.

Ascur's 1934 record included a steeplechase contest as well as stakes victories on the flat. He started eleven times, won five times, was second twice, and third once. He earned $14,280.

Ascur launched his Pacific Coast invasion by acquiring the New Year's Stakes at Santa Anita by a length, trimming Bud Trump, High Class, Fairbro, Buckaroo, Frank Ornott, Sun Archer, Wacoche, Top Row, Thomastown, Head Play and Chiconey. This was worth $4,750.

Since most of these American, sales him in the Santa Anita, his victory in the big number scarcely could be regarded as a fluke.

Moreover, unless some exceptional gas-gas comes along, Ascur already has gathered in enough to make himself the champion money winner of 1935. He netted $107,500, discounting his entry and starting fee in the Santa Anita. This added to his previous swing, gives him $113,980 for the very young year.

With Equiptone showing unmistakable signs of coaching the end of the trail, twenty Grand getting nowhere rapidly in a comeback attempt, and Cavalcade, Peace Chance, and Discovery in varied crippled conditions, Ascur may well become the handicapping king of 1935.

Referee Forced To Halt Battle With Hamas Out On Feet

U.S. Fighter Battered Beyond Recognition When Fight Ends in Ninth

SCHMELING IS NOW AFTER BAER

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hamburg, March 11.—Fighting one of the great battles of his career, Max Schmeling put himself squarely in line for a championship match with Max Baer in June by beating Steve Hamas into a state of complete helplessness in nine rounds yesterday evening.

Seldom was any fighter absorbed more punishment than Hamas did before Referee Valoni halted the twelve-round bout after one minute and twenty seconds of fighting in the ninth, and awarded the victory to Schmeling on a technical knockout. Hamas was draped on the ropes, taking a vicious bombardment without resistance of a difference.

Down three times for counts of nine in the sixth round, Hamas gamely stuck it out for three more chapters, while the crowd implored officials to give him quarter. Hamas scarcely could raise a glove in his own defense in the last two rounds.

His face scarcely recognizable as he sat in his dressing room, Hamas refused to offer any sort of explanation for his defeat.

"I simply ran into a better man," he muttered between battered lips. But when Schmeling went over to shake Hamas's hands and attempt to console with his beaten rival, Hamas snapped:

"That's all right, but there'll be another time."

Charles Harvey, the ends of his big walrus-moustache quivering with emotion, insisted Hamas sprained a ligament in his left arm a week ago. A German physician admitted he had treated Hamas for five days.

The awkward, bewildered fight Steve put up against the former world's champion indicated there was some truth in Harvey's contention.

SCHMELING HAPPY
Schmeling, in a jubilant mood after the fight, shouted gleefully, "Now we get Baer," as he embraced his manager, Joe Gould. It was learned reliably that Anell Hoffman, Baer's manager, has been cabled a new offer of $500,000 for a Schmeling-Baer title match.

The fight, it held, would be sanctioned by the German Government and held in the new Olympic Stadium in Berlin.

Victoria United And Nanaimo Tie

Intercity Football League Match Ends in 5 to 5 Deadlock; Nanaimo Led 4 to 2 at Interval; Payne, Stewart and Bell Play Well

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, March 11.—Overcoming a 4 to 2 lead at half-time, Victoria United held Nanaimo to a 5 to 5 tie here yesterday afternoon in an Intercity Football League match. Victoria led 3 to 4 with five minutes to go, when Grey equalized with a brilliant drive from forty yards out. About 2,000 were in attendance.

Victoria, staged a fine second half rally, and displayed clever forward play, with Payne, Stewart and Bell showing up well. Victoria used one substitute, Campbell replacing Robinson, and Nanaimo put on McGregor for Gavin. Nanaimo took early lead when Butler kicked through his own goal. After five minutes George Payne equalized from a corner kick. Victoria went into lead on an easy W. Watson and J. Stewart.

THE SCORE
Nanaimo attacked, and Tantrum tied the score when he pushed the ball past De Costa. Keeping up pressure, Nanaimo added two more goals through Sanderson. Nanaimo led 4 to 2 at the half.

Resuming, Spitz Stewart reduced the lead after five minutes from a corner kick. Both teams attacked alternately and tested the goalies. De Costa stopped a penalty shot from Grey. Payne secured on the left wing and sent a fine cross to Bell. E. Brumby and J. W. Watson, 1; J. W. Mercer and J. W. Wedderburn, 1; SINGLES

Victorians Take Five Swim Crowns

Irene Pirie Sets Canadian Record
Toronto, March 11.—Irene Pirie, Toronto, who soon will leave this country to marry Fred Milton, English swimmer, and live in England, set a new Canadian free style swimming record for 250 yards of 3 minutes, 28.4 seconds here Saturday night. The time was 6.3 seconds better than her own record. In a dual meet a British swimmer defeated West End Y.M.C.A. 43 to 22.

Five of Victoria's aquatic performers to-day were provincial champions. Molly Wallis, Pacific star, laid claim to a new Canadian junior girls' fifty yards free-style record, and application was being considered for a Canadian women's long tank 200 yards breast stroke mark for Monica Trump as the result of Saturday evening's hang-up gala before a packed house at the Crystal Garden.

The local provincial champions are: Molly Wallis, Pacific Swimming Club; Ernie Peden, Pacific Swimming Club; Yvonne Squires, Victoria A.S.C.; Monica Trump, V.A.S.C., and Bobby Moss, V.A.S.C.

Against a field of young divers Ernie Peden clinched a campaign that has reached almost as high as he took the three metre springboard title. After a week or two of training he went into the event to show a much sounder knowledge of the mechanics of the game than his less experienced rivals.

GIRL DIVERS STAR
But the boys' competition did not reveal the same form as did the exhibition by Vancouver's two little girls, Lynn Adams, British Empire performer, and her slender young team mate, Kay Davidson, who showed real promise in their nearly executed stunts from the ten-foot board.

Phyllis Dewar, swimming exhibition, gave the crowd some idea of the power, smooth stroke that carried her to two empire titles and through to a like number of victories in the London meet as well as winning for the nation's outstanding woman athlete of 1934 the Baskerville gold trophy for the women's Canadian mile.

Marion Moffat and Bobby Hooper, two other stars of Percy Norman's Vancouver A.S.C. squad, who journeyed across the ocean for the Empire meet, made a clean sweep of the women's 100 yards freestyle from Eleanor Peden, who swam the women's 100-yards backstroke without opposition at all, and then took the women's 200-yards freestyle. Henry Beadle, also of Vancouver, to win the men's 500 yards event in 9 minutes 14.5 seconds, with a 16.2 seconds, and swam away from all his rivals were championships.

Marion Moffat also scored a trio of victories in the championship swimming meet. She won the 100 yards freestyle, a fairly easy 100 yards freestyle from Eleanor Peden, who swam the women's 100-yards backstroke without opposition at all, and then took the women's 200-yards freestyle. J. Smith Scores Four For Rangers

Gives Brilliant Performance As Cup-holders Whip Motherwell 4 to 1 in Scottish Cup Football; English First Division Race Tightens

Canadian Press
Glasgow, March 11.—Scottish Cup competition has narrowed down to the semi-finals with four of Scotland's premier clubs ready to do battle with an eye towards Hampden Park for the final tune.

The feat of J. Smith, Rangers' prolific goal scorer, in netting the cup-holders' four goals against Motherwell, outshone all other individual performances.

Excellent weather and sell-out crowds featured Saturday's fourth-round games. At Aberdeen 40,000 fans turned out to see their favorite down Celtic 3 to 1. The previous ground record for this park was 33,000.

The game was a thriller. There was no scoring for the first forty-five minutes but after the interval Armstrong banged one home from a penalty. This brought the Dons to life and Mills and Armstrong, from another penalty, netted before McGraw replied.

Rangers deserved their smashing 4 to 1 win at Fir Park. Smith smashed away four Motherwell goals, outshining all other players in the competition, with his quartet of goals. Telfer netted the home side's counter.

Hearts' last-minute drive clinched the game against Aldershot. Half-time score stood at 1 to 0 for Hearts. Aldershot came back roaring in the second half, smashing two quick goals before the count was evened. In the last minute the favorites put on a desperate drive that ended with the ball safely in the net. McKean scored two and Munro one for Hearts. Conner was Aldershot's marksman.

London, March 11.—Arenal has wasted off Sunday's drive for supremacy in English football. Playing at Highbury Saturday the two teams fought a scoreless battle before 71,000 spectators. While the Gunners are still on top of the league ladder, with forty-three points, Manchester City drew into a tie with Sunderland for second place by two points behind the leaders.

A blustering wind and keen tackling by both defenses made accurate finishing difficult. Tempers ran high and fouls were frequent from one of which Drakes, Arsenal centre, was kicked in the face. The Gunners had the best of matters in the second half but the Northern's strong defence repelled dangerous attacks. Davidson, recently transferred from the Scottish club, St. Johnstone, was one of the outstanding players on the Arsenal team.

RALLY TO WIN
The game at Manchester was played before 25,000 spectators. The City played four reserves and were one goal down at half-time. Houghton scored for the Villa after twenty minutes.

The visitors lost Ashley, injured, and after the change of ends Manchester assumed the aggressive, scoring through Neale, Brooks and Delow two.

Tottenham Hotspurs, fighting to avoid relegation to the second division, snatched a point at Portsmouth where each team scored one goal. Pompey had the best of the play for the first forty-five minutes and Weddie netted. The Spurs improved in the second half and Evans finally equalized from a penalty ten minutes from time.

A neck and neck struggle for leadership is taking place in the second division. Bolton Wanderers, who lost first place to Brentford as the result of a midweek defeat, managed to scrape home against Notts Forest by the only goal scored. The Saints gave Brentford a shock at Southampton. The leaders were two goals down eighteen minutes from the start through tallies by Brevia and Neal. Brentford retaliated, Hopkins and Scott bringing the score level before half-time. Scott put them ahead before the end with a fluke goal, scoring manhandling the flight of the ball.

RE PROPOSED CANADIAN TEAM FOR WIMBLEDON

To the Sports Editor:—The English Lawn Tennis Association has invited the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association to send a team of two leading Canadian men players to play in the Wimbledon tournament on June 23.

They have contributed $100, and Mr. Cooper, the Canadian representative on the English Lawn Tennis Association, has generously contributed another $100 for the same purpose.

As we have in British Columbia the two top ranking lady players in Canada, the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association is anxious to include them in a team of four Canadian players at the world's premier tournament, but neither the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association nor the British Columbia Lawn Tennis Association have the necessary funds to send this representative Canadian team; so that it is necessary to raise the extra $1,000 that will be required in some other way.

May I ask you to publish this letter to correct the erroneous impression given by recent and press announcements.

PHYLLIS DEWAR NATURE'S GIFT

Girl Swimming Star of Empire, Here Saturday, Just a Natural

A beautiful Mother Nature just presented to Canada her outstanding woman athlete of 1934. To that intent staff that gave to make champions, coupled with her own training, goes the credit for the phenomenal rise to fame of Phyllis Dewar, double victor in the British Empire Games swimming events, anchor on the winning Canadian girls' relay, holder of the Canadian women's mile trophy and general freestyle star.

On Saturday evening Victorians who attended the Vancouver Island Swimming League highly successful gala at the Crystal Garden saw the nicely proportioned, attractive young mermaid in action.

Like seven spots on the two Ivories, she's just a natural.

SWIM ABILITY
She came from Moose Jaw a few weeks ago to take up residence in Vancouver for one specific purpose: to train for the 1936 Olympic Games under Percy Norman, coach of the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club, whose rotund presence has commanded respect and affection 35 miles here for the last ten years.

The Berlin Olympiad is Phyllis' goal. Training for it will occupy virtually all the spare time of the twenty-year-old prairie flower. Besides the games, she has one other major ambition—to become a private secretary. And she studies for that in between swimming.

Unlike the wide run of top notches, she seems completely disinterested in the technical end of her swimming. She claims to have no idea of her present time for the 100 yards or any other distance.

Possessor of one of the smoothest, most powerful even rhythm six beat crawl leg strokes. Phyllis professes utter ignorance of the technique she uses. Short catches, body pulls, long reaches and other angles of the arm strokes are just so much gibberish to her words, although she is master of her own style.

Phyllis has lived all her life in Moose Jaw. But annually she went to Vancouver in the summer months.

Where did she learn to swim? In Vancouver, she guesses, "or maybe in the creek back home."

Then she hit further east for the swimmer's coach until she lined up with Percy Norman.

In the early summer of 1934, "Dad" Dewar took Phyllis to Winnipeg. "But I didn't do much there," she confessed. Then she hit further east for the swimmer's coach until she lined up with Percy Norman.

"It was just the breaks," she assured the interviewer modestly. "Never analytical over her stroke she laid in their two-game series with Kirkland Lake Millionaires. The second game remains to be played before Magdodomas invade the north for their two-game series against the winners.

Winners of the northern-senior B struggle will meet the senior A victor for the right to represent Ontario in the Allan Cup race.

MONTREAL ROYALS LEAD
Montreal Royals enjoy a two-game advantage in their best-three-out-of-five series with Ottawa Senators for championship of the Montreal senior group which carries with it the senior championship of Quebec province.

Royals defeated Senators 7 to 3 Saturday after skating to a draw in the first game and winning the second last week.

Winnipeg Falcons took a strong hold on the Manitoba title by getting a 4 to 2 win Saturday over San Antonio Mines in the first of a three-game series. They play again to-night and the winner of the series will meet Port Arthur Bears, champions of Thunder Bay.

Saskatchewan's finale start to-night with Weyburn Beavers, champions of the south, engaging North Battleford Beavers, to win the two-game-total-goal southern series 11 to 3.

Edmonton Superiors and Coleman Canadians play their deciding game of their best two out of three series for the Alberta title to-night. Superiors won the first game 6 to 1 and then Coleman came back Saturday to win the second match 5 to 4.

New York, March 11.—Franco Geretti and Al Letourneur, the Italian-Franco combination that was favored from the start, won New York's fifty-eighth international six-day bike race.

The team of little veterans went into the lead late Saturday and held it to the finish, winning by three laps from Gerard Dyckels, Belgium, and Ewald Wissel, Germany.

Speedy All-blacks Retain Rugby Title

Swims because she likes it. Phyllis Dewar, champion in the water and champion in the becoming grace of mobility, is just one of those rare things that occur in sport—a natural.

Score 9 to 6 Win Over Disappointing Fifth Brigade Team in Final For Provincial Club Crown Here Saturday

A hard-hitting and speedy attack and a defence that cracked only once during the game, again gave North Shore All-Blacks the provincial club rugby championship, symbolized by the Brounfeld Cup, on Saturday, as the defending champions smashed out a 9 to 6 win over a disappointing Fifth Brigade team before a good crowd at Macdonald Park.

The Victorians, held out on almost every drive, failed to show anything like their expected form and deserved to be beaten on the day's play. Even when George Wilson was carted from the field with his brow split open and streaming blood and when Russ Kinnamont was banished for swearing, the locals failed to make much of a showing.

The game started like a first-class fixture and held a fairly good standard throughout the first half, but the Capital's only attack on the evening was a short-lived one in the closing phase.

LOCALS HELD OUT
The Gunners' backs, apparently suffering from lack of form in some spots, could not get through the All-Blacks' block, even though they spoiled the visitors' attacks on several occasions without displaying more than a few widely scattered good tackles.

Victoria could have equalized the score on kicks, but missed two or three field goal attempts, a fair chance to convert and a couple of free kicks from moderate angles.

halted temporarily. Peden cleared but Fraser put the ball back and the Blacks stayed in Victoria's twenty-yard territory. Peden again cleared, gaining on kicks to the All-Blacks' twenty-five.

Paul Rowe came to life to circle around on a wing run that reached the visitors' fifteen-yard line. Shaw missed offside and the Victorians gained a kick.

RECESSIONS AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press
Montreal, March 11.—The Montreal Stock Exchange converted early irregularity into definite weakness today's session, and early losses stretched to fairly large proportions in the late sell-off.

Consolidated Smelters was a leader, with a loss of 2½ points, 130, and Canadian Cement lost 58. Losses ranging up to 40 points were shown by Power Corporation, Building Products, Imperial Tobacco and a large group of Dominion Coal preferred and Canadian Hydro Electric preferred affirmed two points, the former a and the latter at 62.
